ELON MUSK ENTERS TWITTER HEADQUARTERS WITH A SINK

The billionaire businessman tweeted a short video of him carrying the bathroom sink, with a caption: "Let that sink in!"

CHANGES HIS BIO TO 'CHIEF TWIT' AT TWITTER HQ

Musk also changed his bio to 'Chief Twit' and his location Twitter HQ, indicating that the $44-billion deal to buy out the microblogging platform was closed. The developments came a day ahead of a Friday deadline to close the deal, announced in April. Later, in a note, he said the acquisition is to "help humanity" and not let Twitter become a "free-for-all hellscape"

SAYS PLATFORM MUST BE OPEN TO ALL VIEWS

- "The reason I acquired Twitter is because it is important to the future of civilization to have a common digital town square, where a wide range of beliefs can be debated in a healthy manner," he wrote in his note to Twitter advertisers, adding that the platform must be warm and welcoming to all | P14

Board takes a big leap with gender parity in cricketers' fee

Zimbabwe won by 1 run at Perth | AFP

Pakistan suffers shock defeat to Zimbabwe

Pakistan are staring at an early exit from the T20 World Cup in Australia. Babar Azam's team suffered their second consecutive loss on Thursday when they went down to Zimbabwe by 1 run in a last-ball thriller at Perth. Chasing a modest 131 to win, Pakistan paid the price for lacklustre show with the bat as Zimbabwe's attack used the large outfield and bouncy pitch to good use. Needing 4 runs off 4 balls, Pakistan lost two wickets off the last two balls to drop fifth position in table | P17

GOMESH S @ Chennai

IN a novel initiative that would usher in a new era in women's cricket, the Indian cricket board (BCCI) announced on Thursday that there will be parity in fee for all international matches, irrespective of gender. From now on, the centrally contracted women cricketers will get the same match fee as their male counterparts. This comes days after the announcement of hosting of the Women's Indian Premier League next year.

BCCI secretary Jay Shah through a tweet said, "I'm pleased to announce @BCCI's first step towards tackling discrimination. We are implementing pay equity policy for our contracted @BCCIWomen cricketers."

Roger Binny, the BCCI chief said: "This decision sets the platform to grow and develop cricket. I believe this is a significant step forward for women's cricket and the game overall."

According to the revised match fee structure, India women cricketers will get ₹15 lakh per Test match, ₹6 lakh in an ODI, and ₹3 lakh for T20I. They were getting ₹2.5 lakh for Tests, and ₹1 lakh for ODIs and T20Is as match fee so far.

The world's richest body is not the first to bring in parity in fee structure as New Zealand Cricket already announced it earlier this year. Though women's cricket is strong in Australia, they are yet to implement this. Shantha Rangaswamy, India first captain and part of the Apex Council that met on Thursday, heralded the 'revolutionary move'.

NIA footprint in all states by '24

Shah says it now has extra-territorial rights

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Faridabad

IN what could have far-reaching consequences, the National Investigation Agency (NIA) will open branches across all states by 2024 besides getting "extra-territorial rights", Union Home Minister Amit Shah said here on Thursday.

Inaugurating a two-day Chintan Shivir of home ministers on internal security, Shah said his ministry was in the process of amending the Criminal Procedure Code (CrPC) and the Indian Penal Code (IPC). The drafts will soon be placed in Parliament.

Although Shah did not elaborate on the extra-territorial rights to the NIA, ministry sources said it will give the agency the power to investigate all types of cases across many domain areas within India.

While the NIA, which was formed in 2008, at present has four hubs in as many metropolitan cities, the move to establish branches in all states will likely be opposed by non-BJP-ruled state governments. The expansion in the NIA's powers, Shah said, also involves granting it the authority to confiscate a terrorist's property.

The last time it was granted enhanced powers was in 2019 when the NIA Act gave it the power to investigate scheduled offences committed outside India, though subject to international treatises and domestic laws of other countries. Under the Act, the Centre could direct the organisation to investigate such cases as if the offence has been committed in India.

Besides, NIA officers have "all the powers, duties, privileges and liabilities which police officers have in connection with investigation of offences". Shah said his ministry intends to set targets for divisions handling cyber crime, drugs, internal security and border management for 2047.

Nixing FCRA

Claiming the FCRA licence of some NGOs was nixed since they were involved in religious conversions, Shah said they were "raising funds from foreign sources with impunity"

US Fed cue: Rate hike buzz as RBI calls unscheduled MPC meeting

SUNITHA NATTI

RBI's Monetary Policy Committee (MPC) will hold an out-of-turn meeting next Thursday. While the central bank has indicated the 'additional meeting' is to draft the customary report about its failure to meet the inflation target, its timing has sparked suspicion about a rate hike. Coming close on the heels of the US Federal Reserve's policy review, market watchers believe the MPC too may raise rates, though the chances appear slim.

That the RBI has given a heads-up about the meeting itself is surprising, raising hopes that the central bank may walk another mile and make the report public. To recall, RBI governor Shaktikanta Das was explicit last month when he said any such explanatory communication to the government will remain between RBI and the sovereign.

As per sub-sections (a), (b) and (c) of Section 45ZN of the RBI Act, when the banking regulator fails to meet the inflation target, it must report to the Centre the reasons for failure, remedial actions proposed to be taken, and an estimate of the time-period within which the target shall be achieved.

Under RBI norms, a separate meeting must be scheduled to discuss and draft the report, which must be sent within one month from the date on which RBI missed its legal mandate.

The RBI Act defines failure as average headline CPI inflation more than the upper tolerance level or less than the lower tolerance level for three consecutive quarters. P14

Iconic India Coffee House set for revamp

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

INDIA Coffee House, the iconic hangout on Dr Ambedkar Veedhi will see a makeover by November-end with its old-world charm being complemented with exquisite lighting, eye-catching interiors and outside seating.

Besides, its rich filter coffee without chicory will soon be served alongside Latte, Cappuccino, Espresso and other international varieties.

A brand new structure is set to be unveiled with a clear objective of drawing in youth heading to other fancy coffee outlets in the city. The menu will be an improved one, too, with the shop to remain open on all days of the week with extended timings from 8 am to 8 pm.

Srinivas M, CEO, Atal Incubation Centre of Coffee Board, which falls under the Commerce and Industry Ministry, told The New Indian Express, "We started out first on MG Road in 1938 and later shifted to Dr Ambedkar Veedhi in 1963. While we carried out minor improvements in 2000 and 2010, this will be the first time that we are going in for a complete overhaul. A sum of Rs 25 lakh has been earmarked for it."

The traditional look will be retained with the existing 16 wooden tables and 32 benches continuing to stay put inside, he said. CONTINUED ON: P7

Chikkaballapur stones to make Ram Mandir earthquake-proof

SUBHASH CHANDRA N S @ Bengaluru

The stones from Chikkaballapur at the Ram Mandir construction site in Ayodhya | EXPRESS

THE Ram Mandir, which is under construction at Ayodhya on the banks of River Sarayu, has a strong Karnataka connection. The stones being used for its foundations are being transported from Chikkaballapur district. Contractors and the experts say that these rocks are the hardest in the country. "Four companies from Chikkaballapur have been selected to supply the stones for the foundation work," said Muniraju, one of the contractors who is supplying the stones.

Muniraju, who also represents Vishwa Hindu Parishad (VHP) in the state, said that these rocks are heat-resistant. "The entire Ram Temple complex will be earthquake-resistant. To ensure that it is quake proof, the temple foundation is 40-foot deep. The stones being brought from Chikkaballapur were tested by subjecting them to heat up to 1,500 degrees Celsius. These stones will also be tested by exposing them to freezing temperature for more than 24 hours, making them totally waterproof," explained Muniraju. CONTINUED ON: P6

Modi to flag off Vande Bharat Express, address rally in B'luru on November 11

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

The PM will be in Bengaluru to attend several programmes, including flagging off the Vande Bharat Express, unveiling a Kempegowda statue and addressing a rally near the Kempegowda International Airport (KIA).

The Vande Bharat Express will run between Mysuru-Bengaluru-Chennai.

During a video conference, Modi directed Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai and other senior state government officers to make arrangements for all his programmes in such a way that people do not face any difficulty, said an official.

On November 11, the PM will arrive at the HAL Airport in the city around 10 am. He will flag off the Vande Bharat Express at Krantiveera Sangolli Rayanna Railway Station. From the station, he will take a helicopter to the Kempegowda International Airport where he will inaugurate the second terminal of the airport and unveil an 108-foot tall Kempegowda statue. He will also address a public rally near the airport before leaving for Andhra Pradesh around 2 pm.

Sources said around two lakh people are expected to attend the PM's rally near the airport. The government recently launched a campaign to collect sacred soil from across the state to be used for the development of a Kempegowda-themed park at the airport.

The state government's decision to invite the PM to unveil the statue and address the rally is seen as an attempt by the ruling BJP to woo the dominant Vokkaliga community in the Old Mysuru region ahead of the 2023 assembly polls. The Old Mysuru region is crucial for the BJP, which is making all efforts to retain power in the state.

Bengaluru: Ahead of the Global Investors Meet (GIM) in November, the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) will undertake an intensive cleaning campaign across the city. The civic body has issued orders to zonal commissioners of all eight zones to organise cleaning drives. This will include development of footpaths and medians, sealing of potholes, asphalting, cleaning of road/building debris and waste, removal of flexes, and planting of saplings. Meanwhile, BBMP Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath inspected various areas in each zone on Thursday morning. He instructed zonal commissioners to inspect their respective zones and identify problem areas to resolve the issues. BBMP officials have also instructed other departments, including BESCOM and BWSSB, to cooperate with the efforts, especially in areas where roads have been damaged. ENS

24 months, 12 pothole deaths: Cong tweets on roads

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

AFTER the PayCM campaign, the Congress is keeping up pressure on the ruling BJP over the issue of potholes. With bad roads claiming another life in Bengaluru, and the total number of deaths rising to more than 12 in the past 24 months, state in-charge General Secretary Randeep Surjewala tweeted that the BJP government was to blame.

The Karnataka Congress unit will take a final call on highlighting the pothole issue in Bengaluru on Saturday, at a senior leaders' meeting. Surjewala tweeted that the city's potholed roads are death traps. "Though there are instances of death and injury caused by potholes, the government is in deep slumber. Bommai who pretends to be a common man should first realize what enormous difficulty the common man experiences because of potholes... Show the prowess that you have talked about, by getting the potholes filled up,'' he challenged Chief Minister Bommai.

Opposition leader Siddaramaiah said the government is only interested in bribes and corruption, and not on development. "Bribes are more important to them than people's lives. Although people are dying due to potholes, they are not giving importance to filling them up," Siddaramaiah said, adding that this was the reason for the 40 per cent corruption campaign.

KPCC president D K Shivakumar slammed the government, and said they will be holding a senior leaders' meeting on Saturday to finalise the Congress response to government apathy. KPCC working president Saleem Ahmad said Bengaluru is an international city, and if the government has any shame, it should fill up the potholes as soon as possible.

HC directs DC to probe BBMP nod to building

ENS @Bengaluru

EXPRESSING shock over construction of a residential building by encroaching government land in Kodigehalli, for which permission were granted by the Bruhat Bangalore Mahanagara Palike (BBMP), the Karnataka High Court on Thursday directed the Deputy Commissioner, Bengaluru Urban, to conduct an inquiry on whether the permission was as per law and whether proper verification was done before granting it.

It also directed the Deputy Commissioner to identify the officer responsible and submit a report to the court within four weeks.

A division bench of Chief Justice Prasanna B Varale and Justice Ashok S Kinagi passed the order while hearing a public interest litigation filed by one Ashwathanarayana Gowda in 2007 against encroachment of government land at Kodigehalli village of Yelahanka in Benglauru North taluk.

The court said it is surprising that the state government on one hand is before this court contending that said building encroached on government land. On the other hand, authorities like BBMP had issued a building licence and approved the building plan, following which the buildcame up on the site. This shows that there is non-coordination, the court added.

The BBMP has granted permission for construction of the building and issued occupancy certificate. This shows that the BBMP has not even bothered to ascertain the authenticity of documents and verification of government records, the court observed in the order.

BU protests postponed for a day, meeting with ministers today

DONNA EVA @Bengaluru

TENSIONS are flaring at Bangalore University campus even as students have postponed their protest for another day amidst assurances from ministers. According to sources from the university, a meeting will be held on Friday to discuss compensation for Shilpa Shree's family following her death on October 23. Shilpa, a BU student, was run over by a BMTC bus on campus on October 10 and had been fighting for life for almost two weeks, before succumbing to her injuries.

Student protests following the accident were quelled by Housing Minister V Somanna and Cooperation Minister S T Somashekar. They had assured that a meeting will be held to discuss compensation to be given to Shilpa's family as well as safety measures to be enacted in the campus. However, with no meeting materialising and Shilpa's death following, students had threatened to protest on Thursday if a meeting wasn't conducted immediately.

On Thursday, an unofficial meeting was held with university officials and students, who said they will postpone protesting if a meeting was held on Friday. However, the students are unsure if the ministers will honour their promise.

"We have been told that an official meeting will be held on Friday. If a meeting is held, we will hopefully be able to address government compensation for Shilpa's family. If not, we will continue protesting," said Lokesh Ram, vice president of the BU Postgraduate and Research Scholars Union.

Meanwhile on Wednesday, BU Vice Chancellor Dr S M Jayakar, along with several syndicate members, met Shilpa's family in Bangarpet to offer their condolences. The university has paid a compensation of Rs 5 lakh. BMTC has borne the treatment costs for Shilpa, having already paid an initial instalment of Rs 20 lakh.

28th October: Every time I give an interview, I am asked how astrology works. The simple answer is that it doesn't work in any way that twentieth century science can understand. Its starting assumption is that all parts of the universe are linked to all other parts, and that therefore patterns on Earth are linked to rhythms in the sky; by looking at one, we gain insights into the other.

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)

Although a general atmosphere of confusion is still obscuring the truth, don't procrastinate over important issues. By giving people the impression that you could jump one way or the other you will only make matters worse. If you really can't decide, then at least keep them up to date with your thinking.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)

You have worked too hard and sacrificed too much to allow anyone to get the upper hand or take you for a ride. Eventually, you will be in a position to persuade people of the truth of your cause, but first you've got to deal with your own lingering doubts!

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)

The Moon's relationship with your second solar house is a marvellous indication that your financial cycle is about to improve. It is especially auspicious that a one-year cycle and an eighteen-year pattern are now coinciding in a most delightful manner.

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)

The Moon falls in a new sector of your solar chart, inaugurating a phase of dynamic optimism. At least, this is the most positive reading of your current celestial prospects. Just be prepared for the possibility that you'll have to do certain jobs yourself at work.

LEO
(July 24 - Aug. 23)

Spend a little time by yourself if possible. There is a great deal to be learnt from quiet contemplation and, in any case, you'll need to recharge your batteries. Your travel stars remain bright, but with an emphasis on visits to much-loved and familiar places.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)

There's a great temptation to spend more than you can afford. I'd like to remind you that now is not necessarily the best time to make speculative gains. Indeed, gamblers will almost certainly be losers. The best risks are those taken with a complete understanding of the odds.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)

No experience is wasted, and you should try to realise that all the testing experiences you are undergoing are designed to sharpen up your act. You may have to accept that a partner is bound to criticise or accuse you unfairly, but let's hope they'll listen to reason in the end.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)

At last there are signs that you're getting your own way. In fact, very soon you ought to be covering a lot of new ground. The Moon's benign alignments will eventually send you off in search of extra excitement and adventure but first you need to sort out a small cash complication.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)

In your solar chart, the emotional sign of Cancer represents your reliance on money as a means of guaranteeing your future security. Today's lunar picture implies that all will be well in this department. It also advises you to turn to people you've known for a long time, and can trust totally, for the best advice.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)

Your very personal affairs seem to have been in a state of flux ever since Mars, planet of energy and anger, set the cat among the pigeons at home, stirring up strange emotions amongst people you live with. You have one important task to complete, and that is to come to a partner's aid.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)

In the long-term you can and will derive lasting benefits, even from enforced changes in your lifestyle. But the present phase of uncertainty is likely to continue until at least the beginning of next week. If you take a different perspective, then you'll see that when confusion reigns you have a chance to change your mind.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)

You're famously tolerant, yet you do have to become more broad-minded about intensely personal or domestic issues. On the lighter side, before long you can expect to hear from loved ones you haven't seen for some time: you should appreciate the fact that they've been thinking about you.

Woman, paramour held for killing husband

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

A 21-year-old woman and her paramour have been arrested for killing the former's husband. The accused are Shwetha, 21, and Suresh alias Mooli Soori, 25, a native of Penugonda in neighbouring Andhra Pradesh.

The deceased Chandrashekar, 39, a weaver, was found dead on the terrace of a building at Kondappa Layout in Yelahanka on October 21. According to the police, Shwetha did not want to marry Chandrashekar as he was 18 years older than her. Shewtha and Suresh had murdered Chandrashekar by attacking him with a wooden log. She had also made Suresh stab the private parts of her husband using a kitchen knife.

Chandrashekar, a native of Hindupur in Andhra Pradesh, was the younger brother of Saroja, mother of Shwetha. Due to immense pressure from her mother, Shwetha married Chandrashekar. After the wedding, Shwetha stayed back at Hindupur as she was pursuing her degree. She was in love with her senior Suresh even before her wedding.

Lokesh, another relative of Shwetha was also stalking her. He even kept forcing her to love him. She had even filed a complaint against Lokesh in Hindupur and had even beaten him with a footwear outside the police station. After she got married to Chandrashekar, Lokesh stayed away from her.

After killing her husband, she blamed Lokesh. The police found out that Lokesh had no role in the murder as he was in Andhra Pradesh at the time of the killing.

Suspecting her involvement, the police had seized her mobile phone and sent it to FSL to retrieve data. However, they put the SIM card in a basic mobile phone handset hoping to get some leads.

"Shwetha, after plotting her husband's murder, had shared the house location to Suresh on WhatsApp. She even spoke to him on WhatsApp. After the murder, she had deleted all her WhatsApp chats. Suresh, who was on the run after the murder, was unaware of the developments. He was not able to make WhatsApp calls to her. When he directly called her, the police found out his involvement and took him to their custody from Penugonda," said the police.

BJP looks to reap benefits from quota ordinance

Party plans rally in Ballari to thank leadership for increasing reservation

Transport Minister B Sriramulu addresses a BJP event in Mysuru on Thursday

K SHIVA KUMAR @Mysuru

THE BJP government has slipped into poll mode, and is keen to expand its vote base by winning over Dalits and microscopic communities. It is reaching out to SC/STs with the ordinance on increasing reservation quota in proportion to their population in the state.

The saffron party has planned a mega rally in Ballari, with the hope of encashing the ordinance which meets the long-pending demand of SC/STs, and is keen to cut into the Congress vote-bank and influence that Ahinda leader Siddaramaiah has on these communities. The objective of the rally is to thank the BJP leadership, particularly Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai, for exhibiting maturity and political will, that has raised eyebrows in rival parties.

Though Opposition leader Siddaramaiah has claimed it was his government that favoured increasing SC/ST reservation, and the Justice Nagmohan Das Committee was constituted by the JDS-Congress coalition government, the BJP is in no mood to oblige. It has decided to enlighten the communities on the advantages of the quota ordinance.

BJP's SC/ST leaders claim it is time to repay the party which included Parivaraya-Talwara, synonymous with the ST group, in the ordinance. Party leaders claim the SC/ST rally in Ballari will send a strong message across the country, and could give the BJP a toehold in this traditional Congress constituency.

Transport Minister V Sriramulu, touring the state for the success of the rally, is painting Opposition leader Siddaramaiah black, accusing him of snubbing the demands of SC/STs when he was chief minister.

In Old Mysuru, Sriramulu announced that he is not after power, but prefers empowerment of the community. Lauding Bommai for taking all efforts to increase reservation quota, knowing it would have serious political implications, he claimed that when the BJP came to power, it created a separate ministry for Schedule Tribes.

Criticising the Congress, he claimed that leaders of the Yadav (Golla) community were stopped from meeting Rahul Gandhi during the Bharat Jodo Yatra. He said there is mounting pressure to include many castes into SC/STs but this cannot be done until studies are complete and that the government is not in a hurry to meet this demand.

Corruption in solar project, HK Patil involved, claims activist

ENS @ Bengaluru

ANTI-corruption activist TJ Abraham on Thursday filed a complaint before the Karnataka Lokayukta police, alleging that former RDPR Minister HK Patil and others were involved in corruption in connection with a solar power project in Gadag.

Patil and the others had caused the government loss by illegally allowing Amplus KN Solar Pvt Limited to set up a project in Kurtakoti village in Gadag, Abraham alleged. Amplus KN Solar had connived with Patil to defraud the government to illegally get commissioning certificates for the solar power plant in two phases of 100MW and 35MW. The certificates were issued in February and March 2018.

He alleged that a total of 691 acres was utilised for the 135MW solar plant, and that 222 acres were not converted for non-agricultural use to set up the industrial solar plant. He alleged that of 222 acres, the application for conversion for 135 acres was not even submitted, which was a clear violation and in contravention of a condition of the Government Order No.EN 273 NCE 2017, dated July 10, 2017.

It mandates that all lands to be used for the project should be converted for non-agricultural purposes before commissioning. He alleged that these actions caused a loss of about Rs 60 crore to the state government each year, and claimed that the total loss already caused was about Rs 270 crore.

Video surfaces, police look for mystery woman

ENS @ Bengaluru

RAMANAGARA district police investigating the abetment of suicide case of 45-year-old Basavalinga Swami, seer of Kanchugal Bandemutt of Magadi taluk, are looking into the video, said to be of the victim while on video call with a woman. The video has gone viral.

A woman, whose voice is heard in the call, is suspected to have recorded the video. Police are checking the genuineness of the video, if any such woman existed, and whether she could have abetted the seer to take the extreme step. Police also recovered the mobile phones of the driver and priest of the mutt, who were reportedly close to the seer.

After the video chat surfaced, police are questioning three women, to ascertain who recorded the video. Police also suspect that another suicide note was taken away by somebody in the mutt, and warned that stringent action would be taken if it is not handed over to police.

Police are yet to get confirmation that a woman was involved in the seer's suicide. The needle of suspicion is pointing towards a prominent person with whom the seer spoke in the wee hours of Monday, minutes before taking the extreme step. Preliminary investigations suggest the seer was depressed over some personal issues.

The seer reportedly died by suicide in his living room inside the mutt in Kempapura village in Magadi taluk, early on Monday. He left behind a note mentioning the names of a few persons. Police took up a case of abetment of suicide under 306 of the Indian Penal Code. The case was transferred from Kudur police to Magadi police.

3 properties that housed 'illegal' abattoirs attached under new law

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Mangaluru

THE Revenue Department has attached three properties that housed illegal cattle slaughterhouses in Mangaluru under the provisions of The Karnataka Prevention of Slaughter and Preservation of Cattle Act, 2020. This is probably the first such attachment in Karnataka after the stringent Act came into effect last year.

The illegal slaughterhouses were allegedly being operated by Hakeem and Mohammed Parvez at a house in Katipalla.

Another person, Bathish, was running a slaughterhouse at a shed attached to a house in Arkula and Yusuf, Hakeem and Siraj were doing similar activities at a house in Ganjimutt. The seizure of these properties took place in August, but has come to light only on Thursday.

C Madan Mohan, Assistant Commissioner and sub-divisional magistrate, Mangaluru Sub-Division, had issued an order to seize these properties under Sections 8(4) and 8(5) of The Karnataka Prevention of Slaughter and Preservation of Cattle Act, 2020.

Following the seizure, the Mangaluru Tahsildar has entered property attachment in the respective RTCs, which means the concerned owners cannot sell the property until the matter is settled in the court. Mangaluru City North MLA Dr Y Bharath Shetty, in whose constituency the three slaughterhouses are located, claimed that the attachments were first such incidents under the new law. He said that while the notices to the accused were served six months ago, the property attachment was mentioned in the RTC recently.

JDS leader HD Kumaraswamy addresses party workers after launching the 'Pancharatna Rathyatre' in Bengaluru on Thursday

Eye on polls, HDK promises varsity in Old Mysuru region

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI
@ Bengaluru

IN a bid to make its foothold strong in the Old Mysuru region, ahead of 2023 assembly polls, party leader and former chief minister H D Kumaraswamy said that he has plans to set up a university named after Nadaprabhu Kempegowda. "If the party is voted to power, the university will be set up in Magadi'', he announced on Thursday. In an apparent move to woo the Vokkaliga community, HDK also said that he is committed to increase the reservation for Vokkaligas from four per cent to 10 per cent if he becomes the chief minister again.

The former CM has received backing from some religious heads of the community. Interestingly, some BJP legislators from the Vokkaliga community too have backed Kumaraswamy as was evident when South East Graduates' constituency MLC Chidananda Gowda openly said at a public rally that he would be more than happy if Kumaraswamy became the CM again.

This has become cause for concern for the BJP which is also making all out efforts to strengthen its base in the region. The party is pinning its hopes on Higher Education Minister Dr C Ashwatnarayan and former minister C P Yogeshwar to brighten its chances in the region.

The ruling party has now planned a convention for the SC community in Mysuru.

Gowda set for another term as JDS national prez

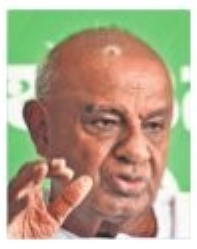
EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

FORMER Prime Minister HD Deve Gowda on Thursday was elected unanimously as the JDS national president for yet another term. The decision was taken at the party's two-day national executive committee meeting which began in Bengaluru on Thursday.

An official announcement in this regard will be made on Friday, JDS sources informed The New Indian Express.

The 89-year-old senior leader has been the JDS supremo for a record 23 years since its inception in 1999.

Delegates from as many as 13 states insisted that Gowda remain as JDS party president, sources added.



The move assumes significance ahead of the 2023 Assembly elections in Karnataka and the 2024 General Elections, and elevation of Mallikarjun Kharge as the Congress president.

The executive also passed resolutions befitting the party's secular credentials besides safeguarding the interests of farmers, Dalits, youth, women and Minorities. "JDS will remain equidistant from both the national parties with regards to communally sensitive issues," a source said.

Will empower the neglected if voted to power: Siddu

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Mysuru

LEADER of Opposition in the Assembly Siddaramaiah on Thursday said that if the Congress comes to power in Karnataka the party will strive to empower the neglected communities and bring them into the mainstream of society.

Speaking at the Vishwakarma Jayanthi celebrations at HD Kote, the former chief minister said, "Caste system has created inequality in the society, which has further contributed to inequality socially, economically and even politically."

The Badami MLA said that it is the responsibility of the government to empower the neglected and the oppressed. "Only then can we see equality," he said and added that the Congress will return to power in 2023 and strive to empower the neglected communities.

He said children should not stick to their family jobs. "Once my father told a village elder that he wants me (Siddaramaiah) to study law. The village elder asked my dad why should a shepherd study law? If I had listened to his words, I would have not completed my law nor would I have become a minister and a CM. Similarly, everyone should select a profession of their choice," he added.

Siddaramaiah announced that he would work to strengthen the Vishwarkarma community if the Congress comes to power.

"During my tenure as CM, we had set aside Rs 25 crore for the Vishwakarma Development Board. The successive governments should have increased the grants. Now, there is a demand to get ST tag for the community. There is a need to conduct a study in this regard," Siddaramaiah added.

Meanwhile, Vishwakarma community leaders urged Siddaramaiah to get a land sanction for them to construct a community hall.

SP: Miscreants didn't threaten Harsha's kin

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Shivamogga

SHIVAMOGGA Superintendent of Police Mithun Kumar GK said that the miscreants who indulged in a verbal duel with one Praveen over old rivalry at Seegehatti on October 24 did not threaten the family of slain Bajrang Dal activist Harsha as claimed by his sister Ashwini. She has also not filed any complaint in this regard, he added. The SP told reporters here on Thursday that Market Fouzan, Faraz and Azhar alias Azzu and two others, who are yet to be traced, went to Seegehatti on two bikes and entered into a verbal duel with Praveen. "Later, they went to Bharamappa Nagar and argued with Prakash and attacked him with a brick. The reason was Praveen and Fouzan had old rivalries and would stare at each other whenever they would come face to face. Prakash and Praveen had also passed comments against Fouzan a few days ago. The entire incident occurred due to personal rivalry," the SP said.

Stones to be used for Ram Mandir foundation

THE stones are being sourced from quarries in Gukanahalli and Adigallu Bande villages on the outskirts of Chikkaballapur. The huge rocks required for the temple are being shipped from the quarries to lay the foundation for the sanctum sanctorum of Lord Ram. Each stone being supplied measures 5 feet in length, 3 feet in thickness and 2.75 feet in width. All stones are granite blocks," said Muniraju.

According to geologists, the rocks in Chikkaballapur are very hard granites formed 2,500 million years ago. "They are very hard rocks formed due to crystallisation of granite. They are highly resistant to earthquakes," said Professor Mahbaleshwar, a retired professor, Department of Geology, Bangalore University.

Another geologist, who did not wished to be named, said that these rocks are formed at least 3 to 3.5 billion years ago and are also found in Ramanagara and other parts around Bengaluru. Interestingly, several findings point out that the Himalayan Mountain ranges were formed 40 or 50 million years ago, making them the youngest mountain range in the world and the rocky terrain of Chikkaballapur existed much before these mountains came into existence.

Cong women's wing members gherao Siddu

BENGALURU: Even as the Congress in Karnataka has been putting up a united face, especially after Rahul Gandhi's Bharat Jodo Yatra which traversed through the state recently, all is not well within the women's wing of the party in the state. A group of women party workers, led by Bengaluru central district former presidents Salma Taj and Vinoda staged a demonstration outside the residence of the Leader of Opposition Siddaramaiah here on Thursda. The protesters alleged that the party's State Women's Wing president Pushpa Amarnath has been taking unilateral decisions by replacing the district women wing presidents. When Siddaramaiah came out to meet them, the protesters, carrying placards, gheraoed him and demanded that Pushpa be removed. According to sources, Puspha in consultation with the party's senior leaders has replaced the district women wing presidents of Raichur, Tumakuru, Ramanagara, Chikkaballapura, Bengaluru Centre and Bengaluru North recently. Speaking to TNIE, the women's wing in-charge and the KPCC working president Ramalinga Reddy said that he has taken serious note of the women leaders who staged the protest and will report the matter to KPCC president D K Shivakumar. ENS

NIA takes over Coimbatore blast case

Police arrest sixth accused for allegedly procuring explosives from e-commerce sites

Oxygen mixture

The investigation reveals that the group allegedly tried to make an explosive by mixing oxygen in the LPG cylinder, which is suspected to have triggered the blast.

Amateurs at the game

The deceased was seen as depressed as he had health issues and was a self-taught radical thinker, and may have attempted the suicide attack. But it was foiled as police were stationed nearby. "We suspect that he slowed down the car on seeing the police, which set off the blast. The suspects were amateurs at handling explosives and they went by video tutorials and content available online," an investigating officer added.

R KIRUBAKARAN @ Coimbatore

HOURS before the National Investigation Agency (NIA) got the nod to take over investigation of the Coimbatore car blast case, police arrested the sixth suspect on Thursday morning for procuring explosives through e-commerce sites.

K Afsar Khan (28), an electrician from Vincent Road in Kottaimedu, allegedly procured the explosive substances online. Police detained him on Wednesday and following investigation, his laptop was seized and he was arrested. Afsar was living with his family in the housing unit behind Ukkadam police station. He was a cousin of Jameesha Mubin, the blast mastermind who was charred to death in the car explosion in front of Sangameswarar temple at Kottaimedu in Coimbatore, on October 23. Police suspect that Afsar had a strong connection with the blast and was allegedly part of the plot for around two years.

He was an expert in electrical wiring and purchased the explosives through e-commerce sites. Police suspect that these explosives were used in the explosion, and the remaining 76kg of explosive substances were seized from Mubin's house. They also plan to approach e-commerce firms to get the purchase history of explosive materials from Coimbatore city, according to sources.

Following the blast, a search at Mubin's residence on October 23 unearthed raw materials such as potassium nitrate, aluminium powder, sulphur and charcoal. The officer said Afsar helped Mubin mix some of the raw materials that the latter carried in the exploded car. Also, the car was in his custody for the past few days.

While Mubin was killed in the blast, five of his associates -- Muhammad Thalha (25), Muhammad Azharudheen (23), Muhammad Riyas (27), Firoz Ismail (27), and Muhammad Nawaz Ismail (27) -- were arrested on Tuesday under provisions of UAPA and IPC.

While NIA took over investigation on Thursday, state police is continuing its inquiry to find links to the conspiracy, which could be useful in preventing such incidents in future.

BJP moves HC seeking CBI probe

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Hyderabad

Union minister G Kishan Reddy in Hyderabad on Thursday | R V K RAO

BJP State General Secretary Gujjula Premendar Reddy filed a writ petition with the Telangana High Court on Thursday, seeking to transfer the case of the alleged poaching attempt of four TRS MLAs into the BJP, to the CBI, and set up an SIT or an inquiry commission by a sitting judge of the High Court to probe the matter.

He contended that the entire incident, which unfolded at a farmhouse in Moinabad, where alleged representatives of the BJP — identified as Ramachandra Bharati alias Satish Sharma, a priest from Faridabad in Haryana; Simhayaji, pontiff of Srimanatha Raja Peetham in Tirupati; and Nandakumar, owner of a restaurant, Deccan Pride in Hyderabad — offered Rs 100 crore each to the four TRS MLAs, apart from civil work contracts from the Centre, is a story concocted by the TRS.

The ruling party intends to defame the saffron party and damage its reputation in Telangana, he further alleged.

Several BJP leaders, such as Union minister G Kishan Reddy and state unit chief Bandi Sanjay Kumar, had already termed the entire episode a ploy of the TRS to gain an upper hand over the saffron party in the Munugode bypolls scheduled for November 3.

"The ruling TRS was unable to digest the overwhelming response of Munugode voters to the BJP during the campaign, because of which the entire poaching episode has been cooked up," Premendar said.

Coffee Board to rope in franchisees

A fillip to entrepreneurship will also happen as a Barista corner will be launched. Long considered a hangout for the older generation, this outlet aims to alter that image. "We are keen on drawing in the younger generation. The Barista space is for an entrepreneur to bring in equipment and churn out varieties of coffee. Apart from cold drinks, cakes and samosas, other confectioneries too will be made available," he said.

Unlike the exorbitant prices charged at modern outlets, a cup of coffee at the Barista outlet will range between Rs 50 and Rs 80 only. The seating capacity will go up from 80 to 100 and the regular menu will be improved with more dosa varieties launched.

N N Narendra, Finance Director, Coffee Board, said they were trying to bring on board an NGO for the physically challenged to run the Barista section. He denied that the revamp charges would be passed on to customers. "We are looking at alternative revenue models and in a first such effort, will be calling for franchisees. Those selected will be trained by us."

Weightlifter cries for funds to participate in Faridabad event

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Udupi

A FINAL-year degree student, Yashaswini V Bhandary of Nadsalu, Padubidri, who has been into weightlifting for the past five years, is struggling to participate at a national-level event in Faridabad.

Yashaswini said she bagged gold at a tournament held in Mysuru recently. However, to participate at the national event in Faridabad, she requires Rs 75,000-1 lakh, which her family is unable to afford. Also, a lack of support from the state government has only made things more difficult for Yashaswini.

Vinay D Bhandary, Yashaswini's father, who works as a hair-dresser, said that his daughter is passionate about weightlifting. "The tournament to be held in Faridabad is organised by Indian Weightlifting Federation from October 27 to November 2.," he said. Presently, Yashaswini is unable to gather the required resources to be in Faridabad by October 31.

K'taka feels the chill, but it's false winter

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

LATELY, the minimum temperature is seen dropping in the night, making one assume if it is an early onset of winter. But experts from the India Meteorological Department (IMD) affirm that it is only a false winter alarm.

On October 25, 2022, Bengaluru beat a decade's record by logging a minimum temperature if 15.4 degree Celsius. On October 26, the city recorded a minimum of 15.5 degree Celsius, while HAL Airport recorded 15 degree Celsius. According to IMD data, these are the lowest minimum temperatures the city has recorded for October since 2011. The lowest minimum temperature ever recorded, however, was on October 31, 1974, at 13.2 degree Celsius.

On October 30, 2018, Bengaluru had recorded a minimum of 16.6 degree Celsius, which was considered to be lowest minimum until now. Regions in North-interior Karnataka have also begun recording low minimum temperatures, with Bagalkot and Bidar recording 12 degree Celsius minimum temperature, an IMD official said.

IMD-Bengaluru Director-in-charge Geeta Agnihotri confirmed it is not the onset of an early winter. This is a temporary phenomena because of cyclone Sitrang, which is absorbing all the moisture from the land surface. As a result, there is no cloud formation, and the long wave radiation is able to escape. Hence, people are experiencing a winter-like chill, where the day temperature is high and dry, while the night temperature is low.

Meanwhile, parts of North Karnataka are experiencing a drop in minimum temperatures since a week and recording lowest minimums.

Geeta added that the IMD has in fact forecast rainfall to occur after four days. Systems are forming over the Bay of Bengal and Tamil Nadu is already experiencing rain. Hence, from October 29, the North-East Monsoon will arrive.

Ryots against new Nagarahole safari route

PRAJNA GR @ Madikeri

Farmers express dissatisfaction over the new project at Nagarahole

WORK on a new safari route inside the Nagarahole Tiger Reserve in Kodagu is in full swing. However, several villagers in the area are opposing the project, and they have also gained support from a farmers association. Meanwhile, the association has threatened to stop tourism at the new spot.

While the safari was conducted inside the core forest area a few years ago, it is currently being carried out from two gates - Nancchi Gate near Kutta in Kodagu and at Veerana Hosahalli Gate near Kabini.

In a bid to further promote safari activities, the forest department has now taken to establishing two new safari routes - at Majjigehalla in Anechowkuru of Kodagu and at Matturu in Periyapatna taluk.

Work is at full swing near Anechowkuru. However, the Karnataka Rajya Raitha Sangha members supported by the local villagers have opposed the project.

"The wildlife conflict in the area is at its peak. The opening of a new safari route inside the tiger reserve will result in more conflict," opined K Manu Somaiah, state secretary of the sangha. However, a forest official mentioned that the safari would ensure good maintenance of the forest.

ENSURE SMALL BIZ NOT CHOKED BY HIGH INTEREST RATE REGIME

As India strives to rein in inflation by hiking interest rates, a string of micro, small and medium enterprises (MSMEs) is staring at a potential blackout. The MSME family, referred to as the backbone of India's economy, is spread across the country with 7.9 million units, per the latest government enumeration. The sheer number gives an insight into their essential role in providing employment opportunities, especially in underprivileged areas. What sets them apart is their high job-creation potential despite the low capital investment and an admirable contribution to domestic production.

Recent reports suggest that many biz units that survived the terrible pandemic are gasping for breath again, with low-priced loans turning out to be a mirage. The expansion of payment cycles and unavailability of working capital have threatened to pull the rug from under their feet. It had already dealt a blow to some small enterprises, as hurting as it was in the aftermath of demonetisation in 2016 when cash flow became the first casualty. Delayed payments from large enterprises and original equipment manufacturers have pushed many small business people to the brink. According to the RBI data, credit growth to micro and small enterprises has accelerated to 28.2% from 12.1% a year ago. In comparison, medium enterprises recorded credit growth of 35.6%, much lower than the 52.3% growth reported last year. Most businesspersons are looking for higher credit to keep their businesses on track. A young entrepreneur who runs an auto component manufacturing unit in Chennai's Ambattur told TNIE they are forced to run from pillar to post for working capital daily, with banks refusing to give loans without collateral. The Centre's Emergency Credit Line Guarantee Scheme (ECLGS) aims to revive pandemic-hit units with unsecured loans, mostly benefiting large players.

While banks levy interest anywhere between 9–12%, NBFCs charge upwards of 16% depending on the client's risk profile. On the flip side, several small business owners are living with unsustainable debt piled up over the years and discrepancies in CIBIL scores. The government should address these issues on a priority basis. An interest subvention and other policy interventions, such as additional export incentives, will give them a lifeline. While lending, banks should count their order book size and years of business experience. Nurturing a healthy ecosystem of MSMEs will help the government achieve its three objectives: job creation, eradication of poverty and increased social inclusiveness.

CONGRESS MUST CHOOSE ITS ENEMY IN KERALA

The main victim of the ongoing ego tussle between the Kerala Governor and the state government is political civility. But there is one more victim as the fight between the two escalates every day—the Congress party. It will not be an exaggeration to say that the Congress finds itself in an unenviable situation in one of its strongest bastions as Governor Arif Mohammed Khan plays the role of Opposition leader to the hilt. As Khan goes hammer and tongs against the LDF government and Pinarayi Vijayan gives it back in equal measure, the Congress-led UDF finds itself between the Devil and the deep sea. If it opposes the Governor, the Congress will lose its opposition space, but if it supports him, it will be seen as being hand in hand with a "BJP agent". Neither will suit the party struggling to stay relevant in one of its last bastions.

The confusion within the Congress is evident as its leaders take contradictory positions on the matter. While the KPCC president and Opposition leader supported the Governor, who asked the vice-chancellors of nine universities to step down, a few Congress leaders, including K Muraleedharan, openly questioned this. The IUML, the Congress' major ally, also spoke out against the Governor, adding more confusion within the UDF. Adding to the woes of the state unit of the Congress, its national leadership has taken a position in favour of the LDF government. AICC General secretary K C Venugopal, in a Facebook post, termed the Governor's action "a gross violation of all democratic and constitutional principles".

With the Governor, in an unprecedented move, telling the CM that the finance minister has ceased to enjoy his "pleasure", the Congress is left with no option but to support the government. Even Opposition leader V D Satheesan, who sided with Khan till recently, was compelled to request the CM to dismiss the Governor's letter with "utter contempt". The inherent contradictions of the situation that the Congress finds itself in are evident to all. Still, the fact is that the party has little to do as the war between two aggressive political ideologies is scaling up daily. That one cannot fight two different enemies at the same time in a war is a truth the Congress should realise. It is high time the party decides who its enemy number one is.

QUICK TAKE

KILLINGS SCARE KASHMIRI PANDITS

Pandit families are relocating from the Kashmir Valley to Jammu. They say they fear for their lives following targeted killings by militants. Over a dozen people have succumbed to attacks to date. But a twist causes an impasse. Many Pandits hold non-transferable government jobs in the Valley and yet insist on getting transferred to the relatively safer Jammu region. The killing spree scares them enough to organise sit-ins for their demand. The government faces the dilemma of agreeing to the transfers at the cost of going against its stated policy of settling them in the Valley after repealing Article 370.

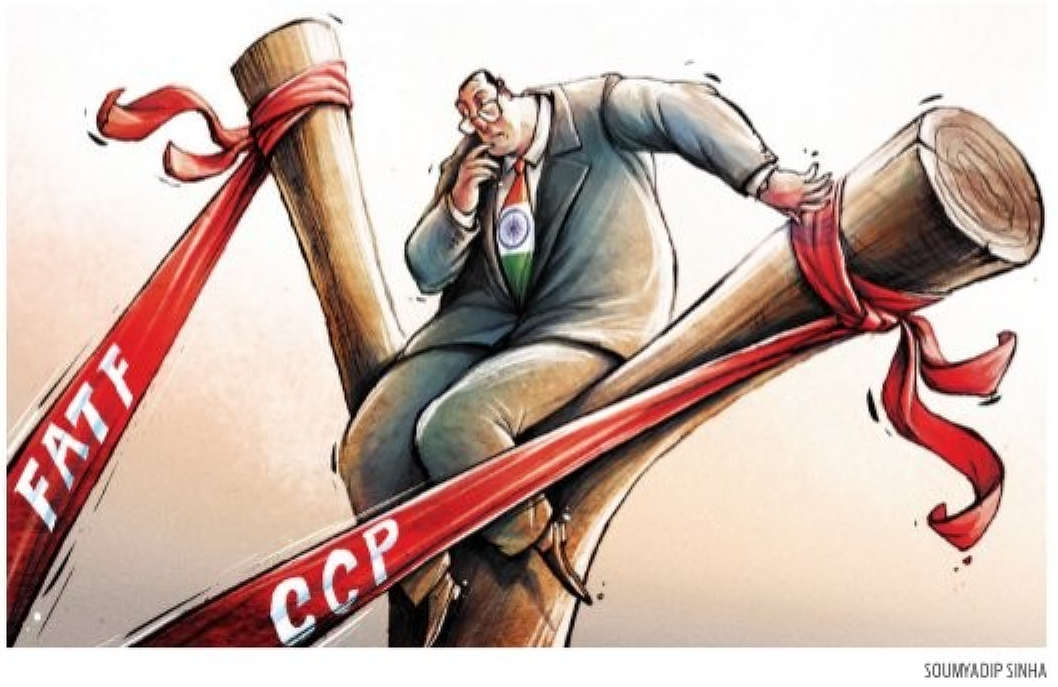
PRESSURE ON INDIA FROM BOTH SIDES OF THE BORDER

LT GEN SYED ATA HASNAIN (RETD)

Former Commander, Srinagar-based 15 Corps. Now Chancellor, Central University



SOUMYADIP SINHA

As soon as the Financial Action Task Force (FATF) decision was announced that Pakistan was now out of the informal grey list, I was getting numerous calls from Kashmir. Analysts just wanted to know whether it was correct that with the strictures no longer over Pakistan, the revival of all networks could resume, and it would be business as usual in Kashmir before the hard decisions taken on August 5, 2019. Not too many were yet paying attention to the serious deliberations going on in Beijing at the other end of the world, where the 20th Congress of the Chinese Communist Party (CCP) was meeting to review the performance of the leadership and the Party in the last five years and to decide the next leadership and priorities; people in India are much more tactical in thinking and look without exception at the immediate future. Despite Galwan and the continuing standoff with the PLA in Ladakh with mirror-like deployment, as also the various manoeuvres and air exercises and steps being undertaken by the PLA to dodge the various nuances of the LAC, it's the Pakistan Army's actions and the scope for problems created by Pakistan that draw the attention of the common mind. With significant geopolitical events happening simultaneously across two borders, the implications for India's strategic security should be obvious. We must take stock, linking these with other events beyond the borders.

There is no need to prioritise; both events have their definite place in the threat spectrum. In the West, the US withdrawal from Afghanistan created a vacuum, leaving the Taliban with a relatively uncontrolled nation. The Afghan strategic space has been found to be the core ground for the gravitation of diverse terror groups evicted from elsewhere after the world's strong counter-terror response. While we may assume that the first cycle of global terror has ended with the defeat of ISIS in Syria and then Marawi (The Philippines), another cycle could well be on the cards. Nothing much has changed in the Middle East except Mohammed bin Salman's intent on altering Saudi Arabia's social character. The Israel-Palestine discord continues intermittently despite the patchy Abraham Accords, and the women's movement in Iran has the makings of something which could invite serious misgivings against the old order which came into force in 1979–80.

The war in Ukraine has come as a spoiler for the US intent and plans for the Indo-Pacific. It has also impacted the smaller countries' economies and energy security, leaving them vulnerable. The US thought that its actions through the Abraham Accords were sufficient to stabilise the Middle East even as it looked for ways to shift focus to the Indo-Pacific and commenced setting up the mechanism for the same, which would ultimately see the unfolding of the full pushback against China's aggressive posturing. Perhaps its one unstated disappointment has been the independent policy of neutrality that India has played through the crisis. The reasons are many and all valid too, but it may have left the US uncertain of the future configuration it has in mind. Yet, why reinvest in Pakistan at this stage through such reprieve via the mechanism of the FATF? There is a reason for this, and I do believe that it could find acceptance in Indian strategic leadership circles too.

Let me explain. The last cycle of global terror commenced from Pakistan's western borders, where three million refugees were housed in shanty camps due to the war in Afghanistan between 1979–89. This time, approximately two million displaced people have been created by the devastating floods in Pakistan, which have destroyed $30–40 billion worth of assets and left the population in despair. Such vulnerable populations comprise impoverished and uneducated, displaced people who suffer year after year, living in squalid conditions with their livelihoods snatched away, vulnerable to extremist influence, a kind of blowback against society. It's going to happen more often with climate change, and Pakistan does not have the economic status to overcome this unless assisted. China's assistance has been iffy. The IMF promised a $9-billion loan with such conditions that disbursal is not yet complete. So how does Pakistan overcome $30–40 billion in damage if the FATF does not certify it to receive more? In many ways, the US is investing to prevent radical practices and networks from becoming dangerous enough to push for what happened in the early millennium. It could be a step to keep Pakistan with it even as the latter strategically veers towards China and gets wooed even by Russia. The SCO focus on Eurasia has not drawn sufficient attention. Iran and perhaps Turkey entering it creates a different 'power equation'. Is the US attempting to cultivate the Eurasian region to counter a Sino-Russian surge in influence here? It's probably covering all angles in a continental continuum before the shift to the Indo-Pacific, on a presumption that the war in Ukraine will eventually end sometime this winter. The nuclear bluff by Putin is as unconvincing as the feasibility of a Russian military victory.

Where does this leave India with the trends across the two main borders? The 20th Congress of the CCP could embolden Xi Jinping to experiment on the Sino-India border, which it intends to play out against Taiwan; alternatively, it could keep up the pressure on the LAC without any meaningful measures which would up the ante. Brinkmanship would be the key, but it is unlikely to be aimed at any outcomes; perhaps just a series of disturbing border drills made to look like mobilisation and a serious application of forces. India, however, will need to keep all options open with preparedness, deployment and response surge capability.

The Indo-Pak border may need to be watched more carefully in the interim. Pakistan is wily enough to sign accords, but implementation is never its strong point; denial is a key weapon in the scabbard. Finding ways to sidestep from strictures of the FATF may not be difficult for the complex networks which exist. An expansion towards Punjab and linking J&K with it would be the concept.

At the end of the day, preparedness for all-out conventional operations at the LAC, diplomatic measures to remain committed to the US-led strategic equations, stabilisation of J&K to counter a second potential hybrid war situation, and preparedness for a proactive strategy against Pakistan if the rubicon is crossed; all this should form the concept of India's readiness and response.

POST-COLONIAL INDIA'S WESTERN FIX

KAJAL BASU

Veteran journalist

The UK's new prime minister, Rishi Sunak, has, by now, become a household talking point in India because of his subcontinental origin. Every Indian on social media knows of his Punjabi grandparental background, that his family was routed through Kenya and Tanzania, that he is British-born, that he is the son-in-law of the legendary Indian IT tycoon NR Narayana Murthy. Not every Indian knows—or is concerned with knowing—about Sunak's economic convictions, or about his unapologetic Brexiteerism, or about the trade relations with India that he might pursue.

The point of this column is not so much Sunak but about how Indians of a certain religiopolitical persuasion have lost it, cheering the elevation of a foreign citizen to head-of-government of a foreign nation despite the utter immateriality of his genealogical track.

In the fulsomeness with which his making the cut for 10 Downing Street is being cheered lies an uncomfortable fact about modern-day Indianness: it is appallingly selective about whom it cheers, whom it marks—and markets—as being, to use a phrase out of anthropology, 'out of India'.

The previous person—a half-PIO (person of Indian origin)—to have been thus celebrated with outré animation was the US vice-president Kamala Harris. It could be argued, somewhat snarkily, that it has been too long since she took the VP's seat in January 2021, and that Sunak's elevation saved Indians from a psychogenic slump. In the event, after a brief dalliance with politesse towards exultant Indians, Harris has gone on to ignore India.

More to the point is the question about how genealogy-fixated Indians have historically viewed—and continue to perceive—Indian-origin leaders of countries other than in the Global North. Do they claim them for and as their own, or do they conspicuously look away? Do Indian-origin leaders of developing nations, some of whom have contributed significantly to their countries of domicile, even find mention in the Indian media? Or is our vision immovably fixed, as a country and a people, on the so-called Western nations?

There are, now, seven Indian-origin leaders in countries of the Global South, including five heads-of-state: President Halimah Yacob of Singapore, President Prithvirajsing Roopun aka Pradeep Singh Roopun of Mauritius, President Chandrikapersad 'Chan' Santokhi aka Sheriff of Suriname, President Mohamed Irfaan Ali of Guyana, and President Wavel Ramkalawan of the Seychelles (elected in the first peaceful transition in the Seychelles since its independence from Britain in 1976). The other two are heads-of-government: Prime Minister António Luís Santos da Costa of Portugal (who is infrequently mentioned in passing in the Goan media), and Prime Minister Pravind Kumar Jugnauth of Mauritius.

In the past 40 years, there have been 32 Indian-origin leaders of foreign nations (including Rishi Sunak). Some of them found fleeting mention in India's usually ebullient chronicles of foreign affairs, but none was raucously celebrated. In fact, few of these names make the cut of fame in India: Mauritian prime ministers Seewoosagar 'Chacha' Ramgoolam and Navinchandra Ramgoolam, and presidents Anerood Jugnauth, Veerasamy Ringadoo, Cassam Uteem, Rajkeswur 'Kailash' Purryag, and Dr Bibi Ameenah Firdaus Gurib-Fakim; Portuguese Prime Minister Alfredo Jorge Nobre da Costa; Malaysian Prime Minister Mahathir Mohamad (who gained some notoriety in India for his initial pro-Malay identarian bumiputra policymaking before he gave it up for a more-inclusive Bangsa Malaysia national identity, which crossover, not surprisingly, found little commendation in the Indian media); Singaporean presidents Chengara Veetil Devan Nair and Sellapan Ramanathan (the island-nation's longest-serving head of state); Surinamese prime ministers Liakat Ali Errol Alibux and Pretaapnarian Shawh Radhecheran Radhakishun, and presidents Lachmipersad Frederik 'Fred' Ramdat Misier and Ramsewak Shankar; Trinidadian and Tobagonian prime ministers Basdeo Panday (uncelebrated despite having been the first person of Indian origin and the first Hindu to be a prime minister of the state) and Kamla Persad-Bissessar (also uncelebrated despite being the first Indian-origin woman to be the prime minister of a foreign sovereign nation), and President Noor Mohamed Hassanali (his being the first Muslim head-of-state in the Americas is equally unsung—although one shouldn't expect Indians to eulogise a Muslim Indian-origin head-of-state); Guyanese Prime Minister Moses Veerasammy Nagamootoo (also the author of the well-received 2001 novel Hendree's Cure on the lives of "Madrasi fishermen, market-traders, rice farmers, Kali worshippers, cricketers, turfites and see-far practitioners who inhabited the Corentyne village of Whim in the 1950s and 60s"), and presidents Cheddi Berret Jagan (considered Guyana's Pater Patriae, and the first Hindu Indian-origin head of government outside of South Asia), Bharrat Jagdeo, and Donald Rabindranauth Ramotar (recipient of the Pravasi Bharatiya Samman in 2015, to nearly no particular lauding); and Fijian Prime Minister Mahendra Pal Chaudhry (also awarded the Pravasi Bharatiya Samman in 2004).

The other Indian-origin leader aside from Rishi Sunak to fall within the Global North is the former prime minister of Ireland, Leo Eric Varadkar. But he has been largely underrecognised in India

The other Indian-origin leader aside from Rishi Sunak to fall within the Global North is the former prime minister of Ireland, Leo Eric Varadkar. But he, too, has been largely underrecognised in India.

An echo of this homeland exaltation of unprodigal progeny finds a bygone echo in the Irish origins of 23 US presidents (including the incumbent Joe Biden). But the celebration of their Irishness was limited to John F Kennedy, Ronald Reagan, and Bill Clinton (almost all of it aimed at garnering Irish Catholic votes). This presidential extractive outreach—which never reached the extremes of stemma-saluting—has faded. While the US arbitrated a peace agreement between Northern Ireland separatists and London, successive US administrations have also cracked down hard on Irish American funding of the conflict in Ireland, almost ending it.

No one today celebrates Biden's Irish bloodline—neither in the US nor in Ireland. I can't help but think that therein lies a moral for India in this.

Sri Lankan refugees

Apropos of A significant judgement for Lankan refugees (Oct 27). After reading this column, I got chills. I am grateful to Justice Swaminathan for assisting Sri Lankan refugees. Applying the same principles of CAA, he said that the refugees must be included under the Act's ambit. The illustration also perfectly goes with the content.

Tourism for women

Apropos of Kerala's new tourism project to engage, attract women (Oct 27). I was thrilled after reading this news! Though I applaud the Kerala government's bold step, the question now lies in how they will implement this. Is it merely an initiative, or will something new happen? Will this step bring comfort to the women when they go on tour, or will they still be anxious that something terrible may happen?

Munugode and money

Apropos of Campaign fury touches new lows in Munugode (Oct 27). Unfortunately, money power is what makes Indian politics tick in our country. Politicians know that the way to amass a large vote bank is through bribes and freebies. For the poor, this is a way to make ends meet. But now, it is necessary to reform the structure of our democracy.

Apropos of When celebrities endorse the wrong message (Oct 27). Celebrities play a significant role in swaying public opinion because millions of people worship them. It is commendable that Adidas terminated its contract with Kanye West. The Department of Consumer Affairs should impose stringent measures to ensure that celebrities do not endorse such wrong messages or products.

Airbus-Tata consortium to manufacture C-295 planes

PM will lay foundation of production unit in Vadodara on Oct. 30

MAYANK SINGH @New Delhi

IN a major step towards establishing defence manufacturing facility in India, the Airbus, in collaboration with TATA Consortium of Tata Advanced Systems Limited (TASL) and Tata Consultancy Services (TCS) led by TASL, is establishing manufacturing plant in Vadodara, Gujarat, which will be inaugurated by Prime Minister Narendra Modi on October 30.

Defence Secretary Ajay Kumar on Thursday said, "On October 30, Prime Minister Narendra Modi will lay the foundation stone for the C-295 aircraft manufacturing facility."

This is the first project of its kind in which a military aircraft will be manufactured in India by a private company. The total cost of the project is ₹21,935 crore. The aircraft can be used for civilian purposes as well. The approval of the Cabinet Committee on Security for procurement of fifty six C-295 MW transport aircraft from Airbus Defence and Space SA, Spain for the Indian Air Force was accorded in September 2021. The C-295 MW aircraft is a transport aircraft of 5-10 Tonne capacity with contemporary technology that will replace the ageing Avro aircraft of IAF.

The C-295MW is a transport aircraft of 5-10 tonne capacity with contemporary technology that will replace the ageing Avro aircraft of IAF. It has a rear ramp door for quick reaction and para dropping of troops and cargo. The short take-off/land from semi-prepared surfaces is another of its features.

The aircraft will strengthen the logistic capabilities of the IAF. It can carry either 71 passengers or 44 fully equipped paratroopers or 24 stretchers.

The first 16 fly-away aircraft are scheduled to be received between September 2023 and August 2025. The first Made in India aircraft is expected from September 2026. Talking about the timeline of the delivery of aircraft, the Defence Secretary stated that the first Made-in-India C-295 aircraft will be delivered in 2026 and all 40 by 2031. Every year a total of 8 aircraft will be produced, he added.

Interestingly, a few days ago, Maharashtra Industry Minister Uday Samant had publically said that they were pursuing the Tata-Airbus project and were confident of getting it. On J&K merger day, Rajnath aims for PoK

FAYAZ WANI @Srinagar

ON the 75th anniversary of Jammu & Kashmir's Accession with India, Defence Minister Rajnath Singh on Thursday in a clear message to Pakistan said the Modi government's aim is to implement the February 22, 1994 resolution of Indian Parliament to reclaim the Gilgit and Baltistan and PoK, which are under occupation of Pakistan.

"I want to question Pakistan that under our areas (PoK) that is illegally under its occupation, what rights has it given to people living there. We know how much Pakistan, which sheds crocodile tears in the name of human rights, cares about the human rights of people of those areas. Every day, we hear news about atrocities on these innocent Indian people," Rajnath, said while addressing the 76th Infantry Day programme at Budgam.

He was here to attend 'Shaurya Diwas' celebrations of Indian Army to commemorate the air-landed operations of Indian Army at Budgam Airport in 1947 to take on the tribal raiders of Pakistan.

Taking a dig at Pakistan, the defence minister said that history is witness that those rulers and states who committed atrocities on their people had to pay for it. "Pakistan, which is sowing the seeds of atrocities in PoK, will have to face thorns in future. We are pained by the sufferings of PoK people. In the times to come, Pakistan will face the consequences of its atrocities".

> Rajnath Singh, Defence Minister

Rajnath said that J&K and Ladakh are on the path of progress and development and touching new heights after Article 370 revocation on August 5, 2019.

"We have just started the development process of these areas. We have just started walking and our yatra will be completed when we implement the unanimous resolution passed in Indian Parliament on February 22, 1994 about PoK to reclaim Gilgit Baltistan and other areas under occupation of Pakistan. Our aim is to implement Parliament's resolution to reclaim remaining parts of Kashmir from Pakistan," the defence minister said. "Our yatra will complete when all refugees of 1947 get justice and get their land and homes back with honour".

"The day is not far away when these resolutions too will be realised," he asserted.

Referring to Article 370 revocation, Rajnath said that on August 5, 2019, J&K was fully integrated with the country and it brought a new dawn here.

"After Article 370 revocation, our government showed to people that our talks and deeds are the same and whatever we promise, we fully implement. We were committed to integration of J&K with the country and people reposed their trust in us and with the passage of time, we succeeded in fully integration of J&K with India," he said.

He said that before Article 370 revocation, some anti-India elements used to disturb peace and harmony in the name of religion but now there is peace and tranquility in J&K due to persistent efforts by government and armed forces.

On October 27, 1947, the Indian Army was inducted by the Indian Air Force at Budgam Airport to evict Pakistani forces and tribal raiders from J&K, a day after the "Instrument of Accession" was signed between Maharaja Hari Singh and Republic of India. During the Thursday event, the replication of the event was organised to pay homage to soldiers and people of J&K.

Before the Article 370 revocation, the shutdown used to be observed in Valley on the call of separatists but no call for strike was given this year and people did their normal chorus of life.

Sparks fly as guv seeks '2nd opinion' on Soren

MUKESH RANJAN @Ranchi

JHARKHAND Governor Ramesh Bais said on Wednesday that he has sought a "second opinion" in a case of office-of-profit that has triggered a political crisis in the state, amid the BJP's demand for dismissal of Chief Minister Hemant Soren.

Following a petition by the BJP seeking Soren's disqualification from the Assembly in the office-of-profit case, the Election Commission had sent its decision to the Jharkhand governor on August 25, sparking a political crisis in the state. Though the EC's decision has not yet been made official, there is a buzz that the poll panel has recommended the chief minister's disqualification as an MLA in connection with a mining lease.

Asked about Soren's cabinet colleagues accusing Bais of acting with vendetta to destabilise the Jharkhand government, the governor said, "Look, if my intention was that, I could have taken a decision based on the recommendation of the Election Commission. But, I didn't want to take any action to defame anyone or with an intention of vendetta."

"I am holding a constitutional post and I have to protect the Constitution. No one should point fingers at me saying I have acted out of revenge, therefore I have asked for a second opinion," the governor told a news channel. Bais, however, did not elaborate on the EC's recommendation and from whom he has sought a second opinion. Asked whether a big decision will come to fore after receiving the second opinion, the governor said, "... bursting crackers is banned in Delhi but not in Jharkhand. May be one atom bomb could explode there."

Disposable emails emerge as new terror tool, intel agencies on alert

AMIT MUKJHERJEE @New Delhi

TECHNOLOGY and digitisation have made life easy for communities across the world. It has benefited people in numerous ways, including those who promote terror and anti-social activities.

Some of the recent operations by the intelligence and investigating agencies in south and northern Indian states have revealed that terror modules and anti-India outfits are using "disposable email" or self-destructing emails as modes of communication which are making their operation extremely difficult to track. The terror handlers, radical outfits and module operators are using these email IDs to communicate and deliver instructions, due to which intelligence sleuths are on high alert.

Despite having specific information and concrete inputs, investigating agencies were quite surprised in some raids. While the sleuths were sure about the dubious activities of the subjects being raided, they were unable to collect evidence at raid locations in the form of documents, notes or digital evidences. "The major part of planning and communication seemed to have been done using disposable mails," an official said.

Disposable Email Addresses (DEA) or temporary mails are email addresses that people use for a short time. It's possible to get a new email address and receive email within seconds, with no sign-ups, no contact details required and certainly no verification that the person using the email address is "real."

Disposable temporary emails were developed to protect the email users from spam, advertising mailings and malwares as it's anonymous and free. These emails have a limited lifetime period and get dissolved in some time. These DEAs are also referred to as "throwaway email", "10 minute mail", "tempmail", "trash mail" and "fake mail". They are being increasingly used for illegitimate purposes.

While some platforms generate random email IDs some generate customised IDs as per the desire of the user. "Reference 'like check in the dogsden or birdsnest' or simply names of places like Indian towns during physical or tele conversations could actually mean email IDs which a caller would refer to for information exchange, sharing or delivery of messages," said a source on anonymity.

Sometimes there is no exchange using the mail ID. "Instructions are kept in the draft folder. IDs and passwords of DEAs created for a specific purpose during a particular time period are shared in advance during physical meetings," said an official. "These IDs get dissolved after their purpose is solved, leaving no trace," he added. Can the disposable emails be tracked? While these are effective means to communicate some of these IDs are completely anonymous. All personal details of the user, address, IP address are dissolved after the period of mailbox use is over, experts dealing with this menace said. Temporary emails are being used to create profiles on social media networks, download files, and use it each time the users want to conceal their identity.

5 non-BJP CMs skip MHA's Chintan Shivir on internal security

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

The West Bengal, Bihar, Jharkhand, Odisha and Tamil Nadu chief ministers, who also hold the home portfolio in their respective states, did not attend the Union Home Ministry-driven Chintan Shivir conclave on internal security, which started on Thursday.

These non-BJP state governments deputed either the directors-general of police and an additional chief secretary or a lesser minister to attend the two-day conclave which is scheduled to hold in-depth discussions on cyber and information security, enhancing the conviction rate, drug trafficking and national security and border management issues.

West Bengal, for instance, is being represented by Additional Director General Niraj Kumar Singh and an additional chief secretary. Curiously, Singh, who is ADG Home Guards, will make a presentation on border management along with Rajasthan Home Secretary Bhanu Ataru and Tamil Nadu ADGP (Coastal Security) Sandeep Mittal. Both these presentations will be made on October 28.

While the chief ministers of West Bengal (Mamata Banerjee), Nitish Kumar (Bihar), Jharkhand (Hemant Soren), Odisha (Naveen Pattnaik) and Tamil Nadu (M K Stalin) were the notable absentees, the chief ministers of Kerala (Pinarayi Vijayan) and Punjab (Bhagwant Mann) attended today's session. Odisha was, however, represented by junior home minister Tushar Kanti Behera.

In fact, besides Vijayan, the chief ministers of Assam (Himanta Biswa Sarma), UP (Yogi Adityanath, Tripura (Manik Saha), Uttarakhand (Pushkar Singh Dhami), Goa (Pramod Sawant) and Sikkim (Prem Singh Tamang) addressed the delegates. Two deputy chief ministers who also hold the home portfolio, Maharashtra's Devendra Fadnavis and Nagaland's Y Patton, attended the session.

Chhattisgarh was represented by home minister Tamradhwaj Sahu and Meghalaya by its home minister Lakhmen Rympui. Jammu and Kashmir's Lieutenant Governor Manoj Sinha addressed the delegates.

Seeking additional funds for the modernisation of the state Police force from the Centre, Kerala Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan said that the role of police in a democratic society is entirely different from that of a colonial regime. Kerala has adopted a policy of zero-tolerance against custodial violence and torture, said the CM adding that the state is striving to create a service-oriented and citizen-friendly police force.

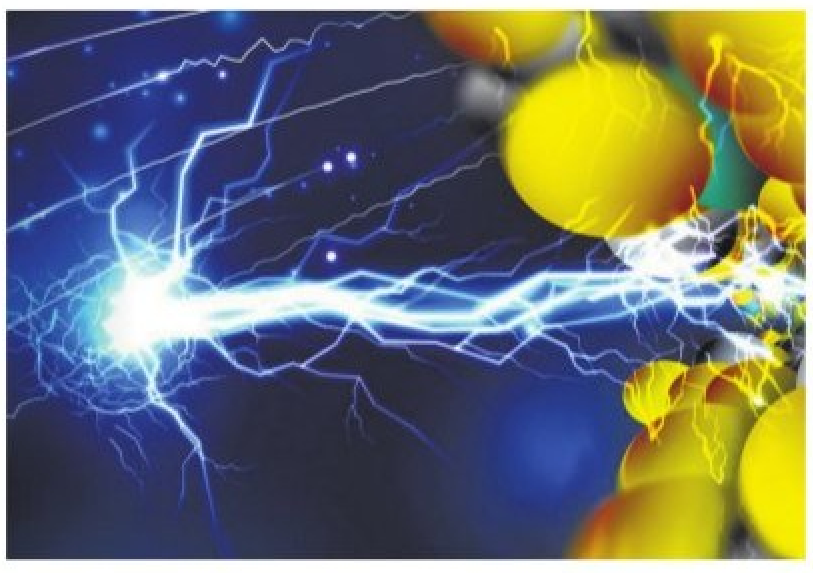
BIRDS, BIRDSONGS CAN IMPROVE MENTAL HEALTH OF PEOPLE

If you are around chirping birds, your mental well-being is guaranteed to be better. A new research from King's College London has found that seeing or hearing birds is associated with an improvement in mental well-being that can last up to eight hours. This improvement was also evident in people with depression, which is the most common mental illness worldwide. The researchers used a smartphone app called Urban Mind to collect people's real-time reports of mental well-being alongside their reports of seeing birds or hearing birdsongs.

NEW PLASTIC-LIKE MATERIAL CAN REVAMP ELECTRONIC DEVICES



Scientists from the University of Chicago have discovered a material which is made like plastic but can conduct electricity like a metal, a breakthrough that could help develop new materials in electronic devices. The new material — yet to be named — offers easier options for processing. Metals usually have to be melted to achieve the right shape for a chip or device, which limits what one can make with them, since other components of the device have to be able to withstand heat needed to process these materials. But the new material has no such restriction because it can be made at room temperatures. It can also be used where the need for a device or pieces of the device to withstand heat, acid or alkalinity, or humidity has previously limited engineers' options to develop new technology.

GENE EDITING TECHNIQUE TO TREAT RARE IMMUNE SYSTEM DISEASE

Scientists from University College London have discovered a new gene editing technique which opens avenues to a whole range of treatment for those born with diseases of the immune system. This brings hope for treatment of a rare disease of the white blood cells (called regulatory T cells) that help control the immune system and those that protect the body from repeat infections and cancer, called effector T cells. A condition called 'CTLA-4 insufficiency' affects the immune system's 'memory', which makes patients suffer from recurring infections by the same viruses and bacteria. CTLA-4 is a protein receptor, acting as an immune checkpoint regulating immune responses. In some cases, CTLA-4 deficiency can lead to lymphomas, a type of blood cancer. Patients with this condition carry gene mutations that cause malfunctioning of the T cells. The researchers were able to target the faulty gene in T cells and repair them using 'cut and paste' gene editing techniques to restore CTLA-4 levels to make the patients healthy again.

CPM issues directive: No pact with BJP in rural polls

Move comes after a meeting between a BJP MP and former minister in Left Front govt Ashok Bhattacharya in North Bengal's Siliguri

PRANAB MONDAL @Kolkata

TWO days after a BJP MP and MLA met CPM leader Ashok Bhattacharya at his residence in Siliguri, the state leadership of West Bengal's erstwhile ruling party issued a directive to district-level office-bearers asking them to steer clear of any official or unofficial pact with the BJP in panchayat elections scheduled next year.

The directive is said to be a fallout of an apparent realisation in the Left party that it cannot afford to lose its supporters to the saffron camp any more when the organisation has started gaining strength in all recent elections after the disastrous performance in the last year's Assembly polls.

The CPM suffered a big dent in its vote bank in the 2019 Lok Sabha elections and 2021 Assembly polls resulting in BJP making inroads in the state. The Marxists have since started regaining their electoral strength securing the second position in all the elections after the last year's Assembly polls. The party is hopeful to perform better in the rural polls next year.

The 'no pact' directive reportedly follows the meeting, which both the BJP and the CPM claimed a courtesy visit, anticipating that the meeting might send out a wrong message of the saffron camp making electoral dividends at the cost of the Left's attempt to regain strength in panchayat polls.

"The directions have been clearly spelled out. No form of alliance with the BJP will be permitted. We will lay down a series of guidelines. The area committees will have to make decisions conforming to those guidelines," said CPI-M state secretary and party's politburo member Mohammad Selim.

According to Selim, decisions related to panchayat polls such as selecting candidates or supporting some other party are normally taken by leaders and workers at the grassroots. The process of candidate selection will remain the same, the decisions will be screened by the district committees and the state committee will intervene, if necessary, he said.

Who is Ashok Bhattacharya?

- 5-time Siliguri MLA since 1991
- Became a minister in Jyoti Basu's cabinet in 1996
- Lost in 2011 when TMC defeated Left Front
- Became chairman of Siliguri Municipal Corporation in 1987. After 2011 Assembly poll loss, he became the civic body chief in 2014 in alliance with Congress
- Made a comeback in 2016 by defeating TMC MLA RN Bhattacharya
- Known for his close proximity with Sourav Ganguly

The last rural polls had seen an unofficial understanding between the Left and the BJP at the grassroots level in several areas of the state.

On Tuesday, BJP's Darjeeling MP Raju Bista and Siliguri MLA Sankar Ghosh met Bhattacharya. The timing of the meeting and Bhattacharya's stature sparked speculation on the future equation between the CPI-M and the BJP at a time when the saffron camp is desperate to consolidate its position in North Bengal ahead of the panchayat polls.

"The contest between the BJP and the TMC is much closer in north Bengal than in the rest of the state. Support of a leader like Bhattacharya can disrupt the ruling party's plan in north Bengal in the panchayat elections. The visit to Bhattacharya by our elected representatives was not at all only a courtesy. It definitely has a political purpose to achieve," said a BJP leader.

Bhattacharya, a former state minister, was elected five times from Siliguri, but he failed to secure victory in the 2021 Assembly polls as his former aide defected to the saffron camp and contested against him.

Given Bhattacharya's political skills, the TMC is smelling conspiracy. "There is a conspiracy going on to destabilize the government, especially in north Bengal. BJP's elected representatives from that region are demanding separate statehood and now they are trying to bring CPI-M leaders into their fold," said TMC spokesperson Kunal Ghosh.

The BJP made major gains in the 2019 Lok Sabha elections by bagging seven seats out of eight in north Bengal. Though the performance was not as good as it was expected, it won 30 seats out of 54 in that region.

Mamata likely to visit Chennai in November

West Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee is likely to visit Chennai to attend Governor La Ganesan's brother's birthday in the first week of November. Earlier this week on Monday, Governor Ganesan visited the CM's residence at Harish Chatterjee Street to participate in Kali Puja organised at her house. Mamata's visit to Chennai signifies a fresh episode in the relations between Raj Bhawan and the State government particularly after a three-year tenure of Jagdeep Dhankhar when differences between the Raj Bhawan and state secretariat have spilled in public domain.

Training for teachers in gender equality

Teachers who teach underprivileged children are being trained how not to discriminate on basis of gender between the students. Often teachers end up making some statements. knowingly or unknowingly, that are gender discriminatory, said one of the teaching heads in the NGO that is hosting the series of workshops. "Many of the children grow up facing discrimination at home where often whatever resources families have is kept aside for the boys and the girls are left with the drudgery of every day life. Often unknowingly teachers end up saying something that leads to gender discrimination.

Rift in Shinde camp as MLA finds 'fault' in fund allocation

SUDHIR SURYAWANSH @Mumbai

ALL is not well in Maharashtra chief minister Eknath Shinde's faction of Shiv Sena. Jalgaon district MLA, Chimanrao Patil on Thursday complained to the CM against Minister Gulabrao Patil for allocating government funds to his rival in his constituency. Chimanrao Patil, and Gulabrao are known rivals within Shiv Sena.

Chimanrao has complained that Gularabrao Patil deliberately gave state funds to his rival in his constituency. "The government fund has been given to my rival who belongs to NCP while the minister who belongs to our party has denied funds to his own party MLA. It shows there is a deliberate attempt to corner me. However, I will demand action against the minister," Patil said.

Shiv Sena's 40 MLAs had revolted against Uddhav Thackeray and toppled his government. Chimanrao Patil, who felt sidelined in the united Shiv Sena joined Shinde and went to Surat hoping that incumbent minister Gulabrao Patil will not be a part of the coup. Gulabrao not only joined the Shinde camp in Guwahati but was even sworn in as a minister in the new government. On the other hand, Chimanrao Patil was not given ministry despite a "promise" by CM Shinde.

Earlier, independent MLA Ravi Rana made allegations against another independent MLA Bacchu Kadu for supporting Shinde-Fadnavis government by taking money in Guwahati. Kadu has said that by November 1, Ravi Rana has to either withdraw his statement or he will file a case against him. He said the charges of kickbacks leveled by Rana are serious and that there has to be clarifications by the CM. He said if CM and his deputy fail to address the issue, then he might take drastic action.

Meanwhile, Shinde camp has gone into damage control. Deepak Kesarkar, minister in the Shinde-Fadnavis government said that they would soon speak to Bachhu Kadu and that he will be inducted as minister in their government.

14-day judicial custody for IAS officer, 2 bizmen

EJAZ KAISER @Raipur

THE Raipur district and sessions court on Thursday gave Enforcement Directorate(ED) 14-day judicial custody of Chhattisgarh IAS officer Sameer Vishnoi and two businessmen in money laundering case.

The 2009-batch IAS officer along with two others, Laxmikant Tiwari and Sunil Agrawal, were sent to central jail by the Raipur district and sessions court where they were produced by the ED.

The trio accused in the alleged money laundering case earlier remained in the custody of ED for 15 days for questioning. The central agency apparently had secured some vital inputs on the basis of which further investigation will be carried out. All three will be again produced before the court on November 10. Meanwhile, the lawyers of the accused will file a plea in the high court to challenge their arrest they claimed as "illegal".

The ED had carried out raids on October 11 including the official premises of three IAS officers, deputy secretary to the CM, businessmen and leaders of the ruling Congress party. Three were arrested while Suryakant Tiwari, cited as main kingpin by the ED in the coal transportation scam, is stated to be absconding after the raids.

Scaling mountains: Poll officials to trek to remote villages of Himachal

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

IN the Himachal assembly elections due November 12, the polling staff on duty for 200 polling booths in the state will have to trek miles through mountains to get to these booths. The staff will be given waterproof bags to secure EVMs and VVPAT machines.

As many as 65 polling stations are located in remote parts at an altitude of more than 10,000 feet. Another 20 booths are located at a height of more than 12,000 feet.

Most of these polling stations are in Lahaul-Spiti, Kinnaur, Chamba, Kangra and Kullu. Reaching there is a tough task for the polling staff. To reach some booths, officials will have to walk around 20 km.

The remotest village in Kangra district, Bara Bhangal, has only 470 votes. In the 2019 election, the polling team walked for three days covering 40 km to reach the polling station.

Another such polling station is at Tashigang in Lahaul and Spiti which has only 52 votes and is one of the highest polling stations that mostly remains snow-covered. It recorded 100% polling in the by-election last year despite freezing cold. This will be the first assembly election for this polling booth in which voters of Tashigang and Gete villages in Lahaul-Spiti will vote. Thus it is a model polling booth, where officials on duty will wear traditional attire. The temperatures there has already started dropping below the freezing point.

Another booth in Hikkim village located at over 12,000 feet has only 213 voters. It remained the highest polling station in the country before the Tashigang polling booth was set up for the 2019 Lok Sabha elections and was connected by a road.

"If the poll staff doesn't find a motorable road, then the team has to walk to get to the polling booth. There are 200 such polling booths in the state. The poll teams will have to walk for around at least 3km with EVMs and VVPAT machines," state Chief Electoral Officer Maneesh Garg told this paper.

'Outsiders' ran poll-related hawala racket in Gujarat

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @A'bad

THE Gujarat Police has unearthed a network of around 30 people from outside the state who are being allegedly used by the Aam Aadmi Party for distributing hawala money for the assembly elections.

The statement given by AAP's Bardoli assembly constituency candidate Rajendra Solanki to the Surat Rural Police has led to this disclosure. Solanki told the police in a written statement that the person who has been identified as his driver was actually an AAP worker from outside the state.

"Saurabh has been identified as my driver. But he is not my driver. He is working for AAP, and I have met him just two or three times. He was sent from Delhi by the party," said Rajendra Solanki. "When I went to the police station to help Saurabh, he told me the money was meant for AAP party's campaign expenses and that he had brought it from an angadia (hawala operator)," said Solanki.

While investigating the source of the stolen black money, the police found that for the 182 seats in Gujarat, more than 30 people from outside Gujarat have been hired by AAP to allegedly to collect hawala money from angadias and distribute to partymen for meeting election expnses. Santosh Parasar alias Saurabh Pandey, named in the police complaint in connection with the Rs 20-lakh loot, is one such person who was given the responsibility of handling cash for nine South Gujarat seats.

Police said that during transfer of money from one place to another, special care is taken to ensure that the local party leaders remain unaware of the operation. This is done to keep the money trail a secret.

The incident that blew the lid off the hawala operation was the October 12 loot in Surat. Santosh Parashar, the alleged driver of Rajendra Solanki had parked Solanki's car near Bardoli police station when two unidentified persons with covered faces broke a window of the car and looted the bag containing Rs 20 lakh cash. A man named Aadil Memon saw the loot. He chased the robbers on his motorcycle for a couple of km, and called for help. After trying to escape, the robbers threw the bag on the road and fled. Aadil carried the bag full of cash to the police station.

Candidates spills the bean

A statement given by AAP's Bardoli assembly constituency candidate Rajendra Solanki to Surat Rural Police has led to the disclosure that outsiders used to run a hawala network. Solanki told the police in a written statement the person who has been identified as his driver was actually an AAP worker from outside the state.

PK seeks to clear air on 'Jansuraj Yatra' funding

RAMASHANKAR @Patna

POLL strategist Prashant Kishor on Thursday sought to put all speculation over the funding of his ongoing 'Jansuraj Yatra' to rest by asserting that six chief ministers whom he had helped win elections were sustaining his campaign financially.

Ever since Kishor had launched his 'Jansuraj Yatra' from Bhitiharwa Gandhi Ashram in West Champaran district on October 2, there has been speculation over the sources of finances that would sustain the campaign. Kishor's disclosure came at a press conference held at the government school at Patilar in Bagaha 1 block of West Champaran.

JD (U) chief and MP Rajiv Ranjan Singh alias Lalan Singh went to the extent of demanding a CBI probe into the financing of Kishor's campaign. He has recently intensified his attack on Nitish Kumar. Kishor in his defence had said that his company (I-PAC) had played a role in making chief ministers of six states, but his company had not charged any money from them. He had told all six chief ministers whether he could seek their support when he would be running the anti-BJP and also anti-Lalu campaigns.

"In the initial phase of my Jansuraj Yatra, they supported my campaign," Kishor said.

Reasons for blocking should be recorded, Twitter tells HC

ENS @Bengaluru

TWITTER argued before the Karnataka High Court that reasons should be recorded in the womb of the orders passed for blocking content, and the same will have to be communicated to the affected parties, or it may lead to a situation or possibility of creation of reasons by the authorities when blocking orders are challenged before court.

Senior counsel representing Twitter on Thursday made this submission before Justice Krishna S Dixit, who was hearing Twitter's petition questioning the legality of a series of 'blocking orders', issued by the Government of India under the Information Technology (Procedures and Safeguards for Blocking of Access to Information by Public) Rules, 2009, either to block Twitter accounts or identified contents of the specific accounts.

Senior counsel Ashok Haranahalli said when the law states the authorities have to record the reasons for blocking the contents, it has to be communicated to the parties to be affected, though there is no specific mention in law. He argued that the Supreme Court in the Shreya Singhal case upheld the validity of the section 69A of the IT Act for the reason that the affected parties have the remedy to challenge the reasons for blocking, as the law mandates that the reasons have to be recorded by the authorities.

An interlocutory application filed by the Chair of the Board of Amnesty International in India, Aakar Patel, was withdrawn by his counsel, when the court indicated that it will dismiss it with exemplary cost of not less than Rs 25 lakh for wasting precious time of the court. "I do not have any pecuniary interest in the present proceedings. I have only preferred the present application to assist this court as it adjudicates important questions of law which affect the rights of citizens across the country," Patel pleaded in his application.

Before reluctantly permitting to withdraw Patel's application when his counsel sought to do so immediately after court indicated imposition of exemplary cost, the court observed that it will open floodgates if the intervener application is allowed, as there are lakhs of users who may similarly approach court. Moreover, the intervener is not affected and hence such applicants should be deterred with imposing exemplary costs, the court observed, mentioning the rejection of a similar application filed by advocate Sanjay Hegde on the last date of hearing.

ECB hikes interest rates by 75 basis points

European Central Bank warns of looming recession, says rate increases will continue till inflation is under control

FRANKFURT

THE European Central Bank on Thursday rolled out another bumper rate hike to combat soaring inflation, despite growing concern that the eurozone is hurtling towards a painful recession.

The ECB's 25-member governing council repeated last month's unprecedented move and opted for another increase of 75 basis points, leaving its three main rates sitting in a range of between 1.5 and 2.25 per cent. The hike was widely expected and comes as the Frankfurt institution faces pressure to rein in record-high inflation, mainly driven by skyrocketing energy costs in the wake of Russia's war in Ukraine.

Eurozone inflation stood at 9.9 per cent in September, nearly five times the ECB's two-per cent target. In its statement, the ECB warned that inflation "remains far too high" in the 19-nation currency club, blaming "soaring energy and food prices, supply bottlenecks and the post-pandemic recovery in demand". Like other central banks, the ECB is fighting back with a series of rate hikes intended to dampen demand by making credit more expensive for households and businesses.

But higher borrowing costs also dampen economic activity, and signs are multiplying that the eurozone outlook has deteriorated. In its determination to bring down price pressures, the ECB "has turned a blind eye on recession risks", said ING economist Carsten Brzeski.

Moscow's move to curb gas supplies to Europe has triggered an energy crisis on the continent, fuelling fears of power shortages and sky-high heating bills this winter.

If Russia completely cuts off gas flows to Europe, the eurozone economy could shrink by nearly one per cent in 2023, ECB vice-president Luis de Guindos has warned.

That scenario has become more likely after Russia in late August shut down the crucial Nord Stream 1 pipeline to Europe's economic powerhouse Germany. The German economy is already forecast to shrink by 0.4 per cent next year. As European governments race to unveil multi-billion-euro support measures to help citizens through a cost-of-living crisis this winter, the ECB's monetary policy tightening has come under increased scrutiny.

Italian Prime Minister Giorgia Meloni this week slammed the ECB's "rash choice" to aggressively hike rates, saying it created "further difficulties for member states that have elevated public debt". AFP

U.S. ECONOMY GROWS FOR FIRST TIME THIS YEAR IN THIRD QTR

WASHINGTON

THE US economy rebounded in the third quarter, expanding for the first time this year in welcome news for President Joe Biden days ahead of midterm elections, government data showed Thursday.

Economic issues have become a flashpoint in the United States, with decades-high inflation weighing on growth and squeezing households.

Fears of a downturn have intensified in the world's biggest economy after two quarters of negative growth, commonly viewed as a strong signal that a recession is underway — a trend that would have global consequences and domestic political costs.

But gross domestic product rose at an annual rate of 2.6 per cent in the July to September period, according to the latest Commerce Department data."Our economic recovery is continuing to power forward," said Biden.

But officials need to "make more progress" on bringing down high costs for American households, he added.

On Thursday, mortgage rates surged past seven per cent for the first time in two decades, according to the closely watched Freddie Mac survey, piling further pressure on potential homebuyers. The better-than-expected GDP performance was helped by strong trade, even as housing investment plunged and weaker consumer spending on goods casts a pall on growth as higher prices bite.

Industrial supplies and materials, notably petroleum and products, kept exports robust. In consumer spending, an increase in services was "partly offset" by a drop in products like motor vehicles and parts, along with food and beverages, data showed.

The leap in exports is "unsustainable," as a strong dollar and weak global growth will pose constraints moving forward, cautioned Ian Shepherdson of Pantheon Macroeconomics.

A fall in imports that helped net trade also marks a reversal of earlier inventory rebuilding, but that is now over, he said. "We're relying on better consumption, rising government spending, and... investment to keep GDP in the black," he added.

Overall, personal consumption expenditures -- a key segment of the economy – grew 1.4 per cent, slower than before. The US economy shrank 0.6 per cent in the second quarter, according to revised numbers, after a larger decline in the first three months this year.

Biden has insisted that the economy is on the right path, but analysts warn of risks ahead, as households grapple with soaring prices and draw down on their savings.

Imran pushed Army to intervene to prop-up his beleaguered govt: ISI boss

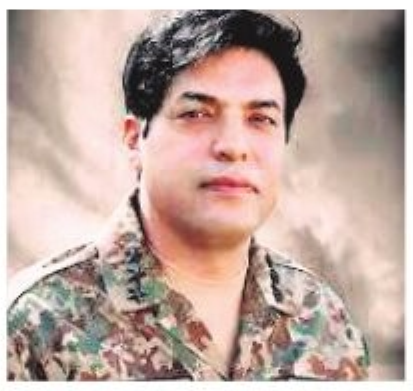
ISLAMABAD

PAKISTAN'S ISI chief Lt Gen Nadeem Ahmed Anjum said on Thursday that Army chief Gen Qamar Javed Bajwa was given a "lucrative offer" in March by the then government amidst the political turmoil, as the powerful top spy launched a veiled attack on ousted premier Imran Khan at an unprecedented press conference.

"I am aware that you are surprised by my presence," Lt Gen Anjum told reporters in the first-ever media interaction by any ISI chief.

The press conference came as the country was grappling with different versions about the killing of journalist Arshad Sharif in Kenya and indirect allegations against the armed forces. "As chief of this agency (Inter-Services Intelligence or ISI), I cannot remain silent when they are targeted for no reason," he said.

Lt Gen Anjum said that in March there was "a lot of pressure" on Pakistan military, but its chief Gen Bajwa decided to limit it to its constitutional role. In March, Gen Bajwa was given a "lucrative offer" for an indefinite extension in his tenure, he said. "It was made in front of me. He (Gen Bajwa) rejected it because he wanted the institution to move forward from a controversial role to a constitutional role," the ISI chief said, without naming former premier Imran.



Lt Gen Nadeem Ahmed Anjum

Recalling that the army chief was called a traitor and his family was also targeted, the ISI chief asked, "If you (Imran) see him as a traitor, then why do you meet him through the back door?" "You meet quietly at night through the back door and express your unconstitutional wishes but call [the army chief] a traitor in broad daylight. That's a big contradiction between your words and your actions," he said. PTI

Musk is chief twit, he wants to let that sink in...literally

SAN FRANCISCO

ELON Musk changed his Twitter profile to "Chief Twit" and posted video of himself walking into the social network's California headquarters carrying a sink on Wednesday, days before his contentious takeover of the company must be finalised.

The billionaire Tesla chief captioned the video "Entering Twitter HQ — let that sink in!" He also listed his location as Twitter headquarters in San Francisco.

It was not clear whether Musk met with anyone at Twitter, but he is supposed to be working with the company to complete the on-again, off-again $44 billion takeover.

The deal must be sealed by Friday, or Musk will face trial over the contract. Closing in on his Twitter megadeal, Musk said his goal is to enable "healthy" debate of ideas and counter

The billionaire entrepreneur pursued the deal "because it is important to the future of civilization to have a common digital town square, where a wide range of beliefs can be debated in a healthy manner, without resorting to violence," Musk tweeted on the eve of a court-imposed deadline to finalise the $44 billion purchase.

The Tesla boss's on-again, off-again acquisition of the influential website appeared to be entering its final phase after Delaware Judge Kathaleen McCormick paused litigation on October 6 on a Twitter suit against Musk after he previously walked away from the deal.

Since then Musk has reportedly been lining up financing. While there is always the chance of a last-minute curveball, more signs pointed to the deal's likely closure.

The New York Stock Exchange posted a pending order to suspend trading in Twitter before Friday's session.

Shares of Twitter — which vaulted higher after McCormick's October 6 move — climbed 1.2 per cent to $53.97 by 1500 GMT Thursday, not far below the $54.20 purchase price in Musk's deal.

EDTECH major Byju's has taken an unsecured loan of ₹300 crore from its subsidiary tuition chain Aakash Educational Services that it acquired for $950 million in 2021.

As per regulatory filings, the unsecured loan was granted to the edtech giant at 7.5% interest rate. It is said that the loan was approved by Aakash's board of directors in the first week of October.

Byju's in a statement said, "The ₹300 crore loan from Aakash Educational Services Limited is, in effect, an advance against the marketing activities and campaigns that Byju's has been running for Aakash." In order to benefit from the economies of scale, the company buys media spots in bulk for all its group companies.

"This is a strategy that has yielded positive results for both the group and Aakash," the company said. Byju's Aakash has grown over 100% since the acquisition. The company also clarified that it is only for principal business activities that a subsidiary and the parent company can give or receive loans.

"In this case, the principal business activity is marketing for the core business of Byju's Aakash on which the group has already spent and is now being reimbursed," it added.

Recently, the company raised $250 million in a fresh funding round from its existing investors including QIA (Qatar Investment Authority). Byju Raveendran, Founder and CEO of BYJU'S had said that the company is now at that sweet spot of its growth story where the unit economics and the economies of scale both are in its favour. "Regardless of the adverse macroeconomic conditions, 2022-23 is set to be our best year in terms of revenue, growth and profitability," he said. The edtech major also sacked 2,500 employees recently. It also announced that it is discontinuing some of its Trivandrum operations to reduce redundancy. "We are offering the Trivandrum team an opportunity to relocate to Bengaluru," it said. The company reported consolidated loss of ₹4,589 crore in FY21, and its revenue from operations grew only 4% to ₹2,280.26 crore in FY21 compared to ₹2,189 crore in the previous year.

Energy prices to fall 11% in '23 on slowdown: World Bank

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

ENERGY prices are expected to fall by 11% in 2023 as global growth is likely to slow down, according to a World Bank report.

According to the World Bank's commodity outlook, energy prices after surging 60% in 2022 will decline 11% in 2023 and 12% in 2024. It sees Brent crude oil averaging $92 a barrel in 2023, before easing to $80 in 2024. The decline in prices will be driven by slower global growth, weaker demand for natural gas as households and industry reduce consumption, and some supply responses, primarily for coal.

However, the report says that energy prices will remain more than 50% above their five-year average through 2024.

The World Bank report further predicts that persistently high energy prices will continue to have inflationary implications, particularly through second-round effects such as higher transport and electricity costs for businesses.

"Inflationary pressures stemming from commodity prices will be further exacerbated in countries that have had sizeable currency depreciations against the US dollar," the report says.

Meanwhile, the International Energy Agency (IEA) in its energy outlook has said that energy markets and policies have changed as a result of Russia's invasion of Ukraine, not just for the time being, but for decades to come, the International Energy Agency (IEA) said on Thursday. According to a report by IEA's World Energy Outlook, the global energy crisis is causing profound and long-lasting changes that have the potential to hasten the transition to a more sustainable and secure energy system.

"With unrelenting geopolitical and economic concerns, energy markets remain vulnerable, and the crisis is a reminder of the fragility and unsustainability of the current global energy system," reads the report. The report advocated for stronger policies to drive the huge rise in energy investment that is needed to cut the risks of future price spikes and volatility. It said subdued investment due to lower prices in the 2015-2020 period made the energy sector much more vulnerable to the sort of disruptions we have seen in 2022. "While clean energy investment rises above $2 trillion by 2030 in the States Policies Scenario, it would need to be above $4 trillion by the same date in the Net Zero Emissions by 2050 Scenario, highlighting the need to attract new investors to the energy sector," reads the report.

BUSINESS-to-business (B2B) ecommerce start-up Udaan has raised $120 million in convertible notes and debt, led by existing shareholders and bondholders.

With this round, the total funds raised by the company via convertible notes and debt in the last four quarters have crossed $350 million.

The start-up, which is backed by Tencent and Lightspeed Ventures, is eyeing to go public in 12-18 months.

In an internal mail, the start-up's CFO Aditya Pande said, "Despite the funding related challenges being experienced by the larger start-up ecosystem, this fundraise reflects the confidence of investors in our business model and their endorsement of the journey to unit economics." Its unit economics improved by 1000bps with equally strong improvements in both gross margins and operating cost. The CFO told employees that the monthly buyer repeat rates have increased by 500+bps in the last two quarters. Founded in 2016, Udaan has operations across categories including lifestyle, electronics, home & kitchen, staples, fruits and vegetables, FMCG, pharma, toys and general merchandise. "We have made significant investments to build a tech-led solid and sustainable business…we have made significant progress in the past few years' journey," the CFO added. The Bengaluru-based start-up has over 30 lakh retailers and 25,000 sellers across 900 cities, covering more than 12,000 pin codes. The platform has over 1.7 million retailers, chemists, kirana shops and farmers, doing over 4.5 million transactions per month.

'Wireless licensing reform to expedite digital India'

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

THE Cellular Operator Association of India (COAI) said the wireless licensing reform the government has introduced will help expedite digital India efforts.

The telecom body, which represents all the three private telecom operators Reliance Jio, Bharti Airtel and Vodafone Idea, said the reforms will aid in quicker rollout of networks and services and promote ease of doing business (EoDB) through reduced compliances.

"We greatly appreciate the government's proactive approach in implementing these progressive reforms, which are aimed towards facilitating a simpler, less time-consuming system for quicker execution of processes, as well as towards enabling ease of doing business for the sector. This would be instrumental in helping faster deployment of networks and roll-out of services to the users," said Lt. Gen. Dr. S.P. Kochhar, Director General, COAI.

The Department of Telecommunications (DoT) on Wednesday released another set of procedural reforms in the telecom and satellite communications (satcom) sectors, including the National Frequency Allocation Plan (NFAP) 2022. For the Satcom sector, the telecom ministry has simplified SACFA (Standing Advisory Committee on Frequency Allocation) certificate clearance guidelines, in which the processing fee is reduced significantly from ₹1,000 to ₹100. COAI opines that this will help telecom operators reduce their compliance burden and save time. The government has also made the entire import licence online and self-declaration based clearance adopted instead of the earlier security-based clearance process. DoT has also issued an advisory on the proper use of wireless jammer or booster and repeater. This will help counter the menace of illegal activities which interfere with network operations and performance, affecting consumer experience, said COAI.

"The NFAP 2022 takes into account the outcomes of the ITU's Radio Regulations and the specifics for usage of spectrum by various users in India via the India remarks. This will provide regulatory certainty to all users of spectrum in India," COAI said in a statement.

THE Finance Ministry on Thursday extended the deadline for queries submission by bidders for IDBI stake sale till November 10.

It had on October 7, floated the preliminary information memorandum (PIM) to invite bids for 61% stake sale in the bank. Earlier, the deadline for submission of queries was October 7. The bids have to be submitted by the interested parties by December 16.

The Department of Investment and Public Asset Management (DIPAM) on Thursday released a corrigendum to the PIM and extended the deadline for submission of queries till November 10.

The government is likely to get the financial bids for IDBI Bank by March. The privatisation process is likely to complete in the first half of next financial year beginning April 2023. Besides this, the buyer will have to make an open offer to the minority shareholders of IDBI Bank for buying 5.28% stake. In addition, interested bidders will have to qualify the Reserve Bank of India's (RBI) 'Fit & Proper' assessment and get security clearance from the government or home ministry at the stage of expression of interest (EoI). The government and LIC collectively hold 94.72% stake in the bank. While LIC has 49.24% stake, the government holds 45.48% of the shares and public shareholders hold 5.2% stake. Post stake sale, LIC and the government's shareholding would come down to 34%. Based on Thursday's share price of IDBI Bank (₹45), the government and LIC would together fetch over ₹26,000 crore from the stake sale.

META SEES PROSPECT IN PAID MESSAGING

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ Bengaluru

FOR Meta, Click-to-Messaging ads is now the fastest-growing ad product with a $9 billion annual run rate. Also, click-to-WhatsApp has crossed a $1.5 billion run rate, growing over 80 % year-on-year (YoY).

Click-to-Messaging ads let businesses run ads on Facebook and Instagram that start a thread on Messenger, WhatsApp or Instagram Direct so they can communicate with customers directly.

In Meta's earnings call, Mark Zuckerberg, Meta Founder and CEO said, "Paid messaging is another opportunity that we're starting to tap into, and it continues to grow quickly but from a smaller base." "We're putting the foundation in place now to scale this (paid messaging) with key partnerships like Salesforce."

"We also launched JioMart on WhatsApp in India and it's our first end-to-end shopping experience that shows the potential for chatbased commerce through messaging," he added. The company reported third quarter revenue of $27.7 billion, down 4% YoY compared to the year-ago period. It missed analysts estimates and its net income halved to $ 4.4 billion from $9.2 billion in the same quarter last year.

It expects fourth quarter total revenue to be in the range of $30-32.5 billion. Meta is also betting big on metaverse. "Between the AI discovery engine, our ads and business messaging platforms, and our future vision for the metaverse, those are three of the areas that we're very focused on," the CEO said.

Meta's pace of hiring also slowed in the third quarter. It added 3,700 net new hires in Q3, down from Q2 net additions of 5,700. The company expects hiring to slow dramatically going forward.

"We are making significant changes across the board to operate more efficiently. We are holding some teams flat in terms of headcount, shrinking others and investing headcount growth only in our highest priorities. As a result, we expect headcount at the end of 2023 will be approximately in-line with third quarter 2022 levels," CFO Dave Wehner said.

Reels continues to grow quickly across its apps. There are now more than 140 billion Reels plays across Facebook and Instagram each day. That's a 50% increase from six months ago, Meta said.

Zuckerberg also said that the number of people using Facebook has reached nearly 2 million. Instagram has more than 2 billion monthly actives, and WhatsApp has more than 2 billion daily actives.

Foreign institutional investors bought (net) shares worth ₹2,818 crore on Thursday, one of the highest figures in recent trading sessions. Top-ranked Carlos Alcaraz eased into the quarterfinals at the Swiss Indoors by beating Botic van de Zandchulp 6-4, 6-2. Two seeded players lost their first-round matches, with No. 7 Alex de Minaur losing 6-2, 7-5 to 25th-ranked Holger Rune.

Equal match fee for contracted players a revolutionary move: Shantha

GOMESH S @ Chennai

IN a path-breaking decision, the Indian cricket board (BCCI) has decided to pay both contracted men and women international cricketers equal match fees. Indian cricket board secretary Jay Shah announced on Thursday that in pursuit of implementing pay equity policy, both contracted male and female cricketers would be paid ₹15 lakh for a Test, ₹6 lakh for an ODI and ₹3 lakh for a T20I.

"This is a landmark decision as we enter a new era in India cricket," Shah said in a statement.

For Shantha Rangaswamy, who had been a pioneer in promoting women's cricket in India, first as a captain in 1976 and then as an administrator, this was like a parting gift as her term in the Apex Council ends. Her place will be taken by former skipper Shubangi Kulkarni. "It is revolutionary because India has taken this step ahead of England and Australia," Shantha told this daily said. "It just shows that liberal minded people are now at the helm in the BCCI. I am very proud." There are a few more areas which the BCCI can look into — the central contracts, domestic fee and, more importantly, the number of matches the women get to play in a season. They have played only two Test matches since December 2014 and will play only two more till 2025.

The BCCI will also hold women's IPL comprising five teams next year | ACC MEDIA

As of this day, the centrally contracted women cricketers are categorised as Grade A (₹50 lakh), Grade B (₹30 lakh) and Grade C (₹10 lakh). To put into context, a Grade C contracted male cricketer gets paid ₹1 crore per season.

In domestic cricket, a senior women cricketer's match fee per day was increased from ₹12,500 to ₹20,000 in September 2021. In comparison, a senior male cricketer's match fee starts at ₹40,000 per day and goes up to ₹60,000 depending on the number of matches they play.

"If you increase the match fee in domestic cricket, it will benefit a lot more people. And the minute the financial burden on the parents is not there, a lot more will be encouraged to take up the sport. I am sure, with this positive thinking, even that will happen sooner rather than later," said Shantha.

SURYA SHINES IN DUTCH ECLIPSE

Middle-order batter's quickfire half-century paves the way for India's 56-run win over Netherlands at Sydney

GOMESH S @ Chennai

Virat Kohli (L) and Suryakumar Yadav scored a fifty each as India registered their second win in T20 World Cup on Thursday | AFP

HERE'S a stat that sums up Suryakumar Yadav as a T20 batter. In the 20 innings the right-hander has made 10 runs or more this year, Suryakumar's average strike-rate in the first delivery he faced is 198.33. The first punch has to be his. That is how he approaches the shortest format of the game right from the first ball he faced in international cricket — it's hard to forget the hook shot he played off England's Jofra Archer for a six in Ahmedabad on his debut.

He has to dictate the terms and not the bowler. Such an attitude is not uncommon. Most finishers play that role in T20 cricket. Suryakumar isn't a finisher. He is a No 4, which is arguably the trickiest position to play in the shortest format. In fact, he has batted below that position only four times in his short-career. There are few who could take such an approach as Suryakumar at that position - Glenn Maxwell, Glenn Phillips and Rovman Powell for example.

But what makes Suryakumar stand out among the few is sustainability. He doesn't just start at a higher strike, but also has managed to maintain the same through the course of his innings in a consistent manner. That his T20I strike rate at No 4 - 186.35 - is the highest for any batter with more than 10 innings in that position is testament to that.

In the lead up to the T20 World Cup in Australia, Suryakumar was regarded as the best T20 batter in the world, leave alone India. His name was the first one on the team sheet. But that doesn't mean there weren't any challenges. He had never played on Australian soil before. In fact, it was the first time he was in Australia. The Indian No 4 said so on Thursday. With high-end pace is not particularly his strong suit, how he was going to adapt to the bouncy conditions Down Under was one of the interesting prospects to look forward to. And as expected, he was tested by Naseem Shah and Haris Rauf in the clash against Pakistan. It was a rare occasion where he did not step up and deliver when India needed him.

Which is why, before the game against Netherlands the focus was on Suryakumar to see how he is going to react to this challenge he has never faced before. And he came out with flying colours, smashing an unbeaten 51 from 25 balls. It was a typical Suryakumar innings. Every ball and every shot was an event. There was a boundary off the third ball he faced, inside out over the infield on the off-side, on-the-up cover drives, his trademark scoops, flicks between fine-leg and square-leg, lofts down the ground as the 32-year-old put on an exhibition.

In a game where both Rohit Sharma and Virat Kohli registered half-centuries, it was Suryakumar who stole the headlines with his 360 degree strokeplay. Ask him about how Rohit and Virat are seeing themselves before taking the attack to the bowlers in contrast with his approach, he would say every player has a role and he is just doing his. Ask him how he is fast becoming the biggest threat for opponents in the star-studded Indian line-up, he will just smile. "I'll take it as a compliment and won't comment on it. Just be myself and what I'm doing," he said on Thursday.

Behind every player's purple patch, there is a process and Surya is no different. As someone who had to wait for years to get his time with the Indian team, he leaves no stone unturned in practice sessions. "So, for example, if I am targeting a few balls, and I have to get N number of runs, if I get out, I just come out. That day I won't go out to bat again. The same thing I've been reflecting on when I go into the games," he said. He might not come out an say that he is the first name other teams should wary of. But the world knows it. Rohit knows it too. After all, as the Indian skipper said ahead of the World Cup, he is the X-factor for the Indian team.

Brief scores: India 179/2 in 20 ovs (Kohli 62 n.o, Rohit 53, Kohli 51 n.o) bt Netherlands 123/9 in 20 ovs (Bhuvneshwar 2/9, Axar 2/18).

After years of nostalgia, Zim have new memory

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @ Chennai

SO many people love nostalgia because of the serotonin hit it provides. It's a soothing balm. A remainder of the good times. For Zimbabwe's cricket fans, nostalgia lane is a permanent address. The Flowers. Henry Olonga. Neil Johnson. 1999 World Cup. Especially more because their cricket team, over the last few years, has been in free fall, only matched by the descent of the Zimbabwean dollar.

There have been high-profile match-fixing scandals. An ICC suspension over 'government interference'. There was also the controversy in one of their 2019 World Cup qualifying games against West Indies when Sikandar Raza was bowled. Even though replays suggested Jason Holder had over-stepped, the TV umpire ruled in favour of the Windies. It had a knock-on effect as they failed to qualify for the World Cup, the first time they had missed an ICC 50-over event World Cup since they were formally proclaimed in 1980.

On Thursday, in a shiny new stadium in Perth, Zimbabwe rolled back the years to beat Pakistan. In a way, they showcased what had made them compelling viewing in the nineties when they repeatedly used to punch above their weight class. Disciplined bowling. A sprinkling of stardust. Gun fielding. Lower order resistance with the bat. Most importantly, forcing mistakes out of opponents when none seem possible. It helped that Pakistan were the opponents because they sometimes don't need a second invitation to make mistakes. But Zimbabwe were alive to capitalise on those opportunities.

When Brad Evans had the ball at the top of his run-up, defending three runs with three balls to go, Pakistan seemingly had this match locked up. Yet, Evans, who had seen one of his slower balls dispatched over his head, kept his cool. He cranked up the pace and decided to pull back his length a touch.

At the striker's end, Mohammad Nawaz, searching for his own last over salvation after his final over against Virat Kohli & Co on Sunday, lost his bearing and shape. With all composure gone, he failed to connect off the fourth ball. Off the fifth, an agricultural heave produced a simple catch to Craig Ervine at mid-off. Off the final ball, Shaheen Shah Afridi connected but just as he was about to complete the second run, keeper Regis Chakabva fumbled before demolishing the stumps to complete a famous win.

Aim is to make cricket a mainstream sport by 2030: CI

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN
@Chennai

WARREN Deutrom, CEO of Cricket Ireland, has a big in-tray. He hopes the International Cricket Council (ICC) will give Ireland a bigger share than what they currently receive. They also hope that the country will have a permanent stadium by the time the 2030 T20 World Cup comes around, which the British Isles will co-host. Excerpts of an interview

Ireland's Captain Andrew Balbirnie (C) celebrates their win over England | AFP

Today's matches in Melbourne

Afghanistan vs Ireland, 9.30 AM
Australia vs England, 1.30 PM

LIVE ON STAR SPORTS NETWORK

What does the win mean for Ireland cricket?

In a way, we as a sport are continuing to gain significant traction every single year. We gain a new opportunity to tell our story. In 2011 (when we beat England in the 50-over WC), Ireland's problem was we only had an opportunity to have a moment in the sun every 2-4 years, around World Cups. Now, because we are a full-member, we are getting regular opportunities to be in the public consciousness. For example, this year we have played India, New Zealand and South Africa. We had a series against Afghanistan. We played West Indies. So, we are getting many more opportunities at a much more frequent basis to be in the public consciousness in Ireland via TV, media, radio... so opportunities like this are really now the icing on the cake. And thanks to the timezone difference between Ireland and Australia, we are also dominating the news agenda as people are waking up to hearing about the wins on the radio and on TV.

Can you take these wins tell local people 'cricket is a viable alternative to 'gaelic and rugby and football'?

We are aiming to make cricket a mainstream sport in Ireland by 2030. What we are pushing extremely hard in Ireland is we require our government to invest in a proper stadium. At the moment, we don't have a proper stadium. We have to build a stadium every time we want to host FTP cricket. That's not appropriate for a high-performing sport of our calibre and for a sport that's going to be co-hosting the T20 World Cup in 2030. So, that's our challenge to the Irish government.

The three wins and qualifying for the Super 12s means that Ireland will earn at least $190,000. Is that a substantial amount in the grand scheme of things?

I don't think the prize money component at this juncture is the key ... our primary focus at this time is ensuring that in the next ICC financial distribution that Ireland's current status as a full-member is going to be much more strongly considered. So, currently, Ireland receives less than half of the ICC distribution as Zimbabwe receive. Obviously, Ireland's women's team have gotten through to the T20 World Cup. When you consider the fact that the women's team is in the Women's Championship playing on a day-in, day-out basis... when it comes down to men's, women's juniors, Ireland is performing at a high level inspite of the low level of financial distribution.

Rossouw shines in SA win

Rilee Rossouw scored 1st ton of the 2022 T20 World Cup on Thursday | AFP

Brief scores: SA 205/5 in 20 ovs (Rosssouw 109) bt Bangladesh 101 all out in 16.3 ovs (Nortje 4/10, Shamsi 3/20); Zimbabwe 130/8 in 20 ovs (Wasim 4/24, Shadab 3/23) bt Pakistan 129/8 in 20 ovs (Raza 3/25).

SYDNEY: South Africa beat Bangladesh by 104 runs in their T20 World Cup match here on Thursday. Batting first, South Africa posted an imposing 205 for 5, riding on Rilee Rossouw's whirlwind 56-ball 109 and Quinton de Kock's 38-ball 63.

The Proteas then returned to bowl out Bangladesh for 101 in 16.3 overs. Litton Das (34) was the top-scorer for Bangladesh.

Anrich Nortje (4/10) was most successful bowler for South Africa, while Tabraiz Shamsi (3/20) claimed three wickets.

THE GREAT FALL

It's been a chastening mid-week as some of the biggest European clubs took a tumble towards the Europa League. A look at some significant Champions League results...

ATLETICO 2-2 BAYER LEVERKUSEN

There was a point of time when Atletico were considered to be genuine La Liga and Champions League contenders. Not anymore. Under Diego Simeone, the methods have become stale. They had a penalty in the dying moments to keep alive their chances but promptly missed it.

BARCELONA 0-3 BAYERN

The Catalans' fate was settled even before they took the field but there was the question of salvaging pride. Bayern, though, made sure of a very professional performance at Nou Camp. Considering Barcelona pledged their family silver for immediate success, this could have a very grave consequence.

BENFICA 4-3 JUVENTUS

Juventus wanted to dominate Europe so they went ahead and signed Cristiano Ronaldo. Since then, it's all gone a bit pear-shaped. On Tuesday, came another embarrassment. Since they reached the final in 2017, they have gone past the quarterfinals stage zero times.

6 Barcelona have now lost six consecutive matches against Bayern for an aggregate score of 2-19.

WEDNESDAY'S RESULTS

- Tottenham 1-1 Sporting, Eintracht Frankfurt 2-2 Marseille
- Napoli 3-0 Rangers, Ajax 0-3 Liverpool
- Atletico 2-2 Bayer Leverkusen, Club Brugge 0-4 Porto
- Barcelona 0-3 Bayern, Inter 4-0 Viktoria Plzen

Clubs qualified for knock-out phase of Champions League

Napoli, Liverpool, Club Brugge, Porto, Bayern, Inter, Chelsea, Real Madrid, Manchester City, PSG, Benfica, Borussia Dortmund
